Crippen, in the cellar of whose home was unearthed the body believed by the police to be that of the physician's wife, who was known on the stage as Belle Elmore.

Since the discovery of the body and the disappearance of Dr. Crippen and his typist, Miss Ethel Clare Leneve, the Scotland Yard detectives have inquired diligently among those living in the vicinity of the Crippen home in Hilldrop Crescent, North London, for information that would throw light on the conjugal [illegible]ts and relations of the American doctor and his actress wife.

Halts Thief at Death Chamber

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Carrying a [illegible] and a dark lantern, [illegible] entered the [illegible] Adolph [illegible] the [illegible] father [illegible] Sixth avenue, Sunset, at [illegible] o'clock this morning.

Sitting at a table in a small room off the hall was Mrs. [illegible] Thompson, a trained nurse, playing solitaire. In an adjoining apartment lay her patient, Mrs. Mary Snyder, mother-in-law of Frank [illegible], sleeping [illegible] at the point of death.

All other members of the family were slumbering. A noise in the hall attracted the nurse and looking out she saw the burglar. He had his hand on the knob of the door leading to the sick room and was about to enter when Mrs. Thompson quickly [illegible] with the atmosphere [illegible] said:

"For heaven's sake, man, don't go in there. A woman is dying in that room."

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The Interstate Commerce Commission announced [illegible] that [illegible] rates on [illegible] between Chicago and New York [illegible] been suspended.

The present rates are 28 cents on cattle and 45 cents on dressed beef. The increases will become effective August 1.

PACIFIC MAIL BOAT STUCK BUT ALL SAVED

Vessel Is Firmly Embedded in the Sandy Bottom of Japan Sea.

NO DAMAGE IS DONE TO HULL BY ACCIDENT

Wireless Brings Assistance to Huge Leviathan Coming From the Orient

The Pacific Mail steamship Mongolia, bound from Hongkong to San Francisco, ran aground this morning at 3 o'clock at Shimodaso on the Island of Hondo, at the southern end of the peninsula of Izu, Japan. On board are a crew of 200 men and from advices received it is estimated that about 218 passengers are aboard the ill-fated liner. The vessel was steaming along in a calm sea when without any warning the vessel ran aground with sufficient force to throw many from their bunks.

All hands immediately made for the upper deck, where Captain Kitt was already directing operations to prevent panic. In an orderly manner the boats were lowered, but were not required. Purser C. A. Ludvigsen with Surgeon [illegible] meanwhile hastened to the staterooms below decks and succeeded in assuring the passengers.

FAST ON BEACH

The entire engine room crew under Chief Engineer [illegible] Sawlon immediately attempted to back the vessel from her position, but all efforts were found unavailing, as the vessel was firmly embedded on the sandy bottom. The vessel was steaming at full speed at the time. According to a dispatch received from the company's agent at Yokohama three days will be required to lighten her cargo before any attempt at floating is made.

The dispatch says that after a hurried survey no serious damage to either the hull or the engines could be ascertained.

The wireless apparatus was immediately put into operation and communication was established between the shore and passing vessels, many of which are hurrying to the disabled leviathan. [illegible] the fact that she had not yet reached Yokohama, many more passengers would have been abroad. Names of passengers are not procurable at present, as the information is cabled from Yokohama, whither the vessel was bound.

EARLY MORNING CRASH

The following cable was received at the company's office here this morning:

YOKOHAMA, July 15.—Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco: The Mongolia is on aground at 3 a. m. this morning off Ohitsu. Three days will be required to float her, as much of her cargo will have to be lightered. There is no damage to either hull or engines. B. C. Howard, Agent.

The experience of running ashore is not a unique one for the mammoth vessel, for on September 1 last she ran aground off Midway Island and remained there for six days before she was floated. On April 23 she ran aground near Mayeda lighthouse in the [illegible] floated the same day. The vessel is commanded by Captain E. P. Kitt.

IS MODERN STEAMER

The steamer Mongolia, launched in 1904 with her sister ship the Manchuria, is the largest and most modern of the Pacific Mail steamship line, and at the time of her launching was the largest vessel ever turned out of an American shipbuilding yard.

Her length is 6[illegible] feet over all with a beam 65 feet. Her displacement is [illegible]000 tons and her load draft is [illegible] feet [illegible] inches. She is registered at Lloyd's as 100 A I special survey. She has five decks, orlop, lower, middle, upper and shelter, and on the [illegible] the accommodation amidship has a bridge and boat decks. She is a twin-screw vessel, each engine being of the quadruple expansion design.

SOLOMON KAHN SUCCUMBS TO ILLNESS IN EUROPE

Oakland Community Shocked by News of Death in Amsterdam Last Night.

EARNED FRIENDSHIP BY HIS PERSONALITY

Devotion to City and Honesty in Business Won Him Great Many Admirers.

The business community of this city was shocked this morning by the receipt of a cablegram from Amsterdam announcing the unexpected death in that city last evening of Solomon Kahn, senior member of the local dry goods firm of Kahn Brothers.

The shock sustained by the merchants will be [illegible] households in Oakland and vicinity, where the name of the firm of Kahn Brothers has been a household word for a generation.

The [illegible] manner of the merchant [illegible] thousands of [illegible] thousand [illegible] admirers of his personality, his devotion to business, his unfailing courtesy, his love of the city of his adoption, his uprightness in the conduct of business.

ALWAYS AT POST

For several years past Sol Kahn has not been the vigorous man whom he had been for a number of years after he and other members of his family established their business in Oakland, but at the same time he was seldom missed from his place of business, and his presence there was thought a guarantee that he had in great measure recovered from the ailment which had been visited upon him.

On the third of last May, accompanied by his wife, his son Irving, and daughter [illegible], he left for Europe to make a tour of the continent as a means of recreation and incidentally of enabling the head of the family to avail himself of the medicinal properties of some of the health-giving waters which are to be found at so many places on the other side of the ocean.

REPORTS ENCOURAGING

Since his departure for Europe his firm in this city has received from time to time encouraging reports both of the pleasures which the tourists were experiencing and the improvement of Mr. Kahn.

It was therefore with inexpressible pain that the cablegram announcing his demise was received this morning, plunging the surviving members of his family, his many friends and the large corps of employes in the great store into sadness.

The poignancy of the bereavement is all the more acute for the reason that Mr. Kahn had attained only to his [illegible] year. At the time of his death he had the consolation and comfort of the presence at his bedside of those of his immediate family whom he held most dear, and these will [illegible] their steps to this country [illegible], bearing with them the remains of the late head of the house. [illegible] will be held from the late home of the deceased, 66[illegible] Oakland avenue.

PREPARED FOR CAREER

Sol Kahn was born in New York city in 18[illegible] [illegible] fitted him [illegible] When [illegible] was 9 years [illegible] their fortune [illegible] which at the time was attracting buoyant spirits and [illegible] from all parts of the country. The family at that time consisted of the [illegible] and three brothers and four sisters, all of whom readily found congenial positions in the various activities of the time and all of whom were rewarded with success.

The attention, however, of the three brothers, Sol, Henry and Fred Kahn, was attracted to this city and it was

Forest Fires Rage Unabated in Big Montana Reserves

MISSOULA, Mont., July 15.—Since last night the fires in the [illegible] Bitter Root and Missoula forests in this district have assumed immense proportions. The Quartz conflagration seems now to have passed beyond all control and an extreme effort is being made to obtain fire fighters.

Numerous buildings have been burned and immense property holdings of the Big Blackfoot Lumber Company are threatened. The forestry officials believe that if rain does not come soon the country will experience one of the most disastrous forest fires ever known.

Another bad fire broke out during the night at Stark and on the Lolo forest reserve. Already 400 acres have been swept.

STRENUOUS BATTLE FOR GREAT FAIR STARTS TODAY

Directors to Meet and Lay the Plans for Big Publicity Campaign.

TO EDUCATE WORLD IN AIMS OF PROJECT

Exhibitions Have Helped Other Cities, Testify Municipal Officers.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The committee on exploitation and publicity of the Panama Pacific International Exposition Company at its meeting this afternoon is expected to start the machinery of a campaign that will reach no halting place until Congress shall have definitely awarded the world's fair in 1915 to San Francisco.

It is to be a strenuous campaign of publicity and education reaching to the remotest corners of the Union and extending to the countries beyond the seas. Its purpose is to educate the people in the aims and objects of the projected international exposition and to awaken them to the realization that San Francisco is not only the logical place to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal but is the best equipped city of all in point of climatic qualities and capacity to accommodate the great crowds that will take part in the celebration.

OTHER CITIES TELL OF BENEFITS

An outline of the proposed campaign was submitted to the board of directors on Wednesday. Suggestions have been received from various commercial bodies of city and state and the publicity committee upon whose shoulders the active work will fall is about ready to go ahead.

Meanwhile in response to requests sent out from headquarters several cities that have held expositions have sent in statistics showing the substantial benefits derived from their respective enterprises. The Pacific coast cities of Seattle and Portland appear to have done remarkably. The results are shown by comparative tables giving the bank clearings, bank deposits, realty sales, building permits, imports, exports, customs receipts, shipments of all sorts and school census before and after the exposition.

HOW FAIR HELPED OMAHA

But perhaps the most significant illustration of the benefit accruing to a city from an enterprise of the kind is afforded by a communication from G. W. Wattles of Omaha, who was president of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition held in that city in 1898. Mr. Wattles writes:

"In a general way I will say that the conditions existing in this city (Omaha) from 1893 to 1898 were about as bad as could possibly be imagined. We had passed through the panic of 1893 and two crop failures in the territory near Omaha, also the free silver craze which had passed over the country in which Nebraska was involved on account of being the home of Mr. Bryan. The business depression had been more severe here than in almost any other city I know of. While the padded census in 1890 showed the population of Omaha to be 140,000, as a matter of fact it was about 8[illegible],000 and it went down from this number until in 1898 I do not believe it was over 75,000. Our business men were discouraged and it was with the greatest possible difficulty that in those unfavorable times we were able to promote and secure the money to build an exposition.

"The effect of the exposition was to bring new life into the community. There was no building boom or great inflation preceding it similar to that which had taken place in Chicago, therefore there was no depression to follow it. Our exposition was successful from every point of view. Financially its record has never been equaled, as the corporation which held the exposition paid back to its stockholders 92½ per cent of their stock subscriptions."

SNELL CASE GOES OVER FIVE DAYS

Defendant, Charged With Perjury in Land Fraud Trial, Makes Request.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Charles P. Snell, who was indicted two weeks ago by the federal grand jury for alleged perjury in the Benson-Perrin land fraud cases, appeared in the United States district court before Judge Van Fleet yesterday to answer to the indictment. A continuance until July 19 was granted on the motion of the defendant's attorney, Philip C. Boardman, in order that he might have more time in which to study the indictment.

Boardman said that he personally would not appear in the case, his partner Louis P. Boardman and Bert Schlesinger being Snell's representatives. He was only acting, he said, during their absence from the city. He asked for ten days' delay. Judge Van Fleet cut the time in half, intending, he said, to have the case tried in August.

Samuel Platt, United States attorney, that United States Attorney Robert [illegible] for the district of Nevada, who has been specially appointed to conduct this case for the government, owing to the fact Devlin of this district is disqualified, appeared for the United States.

DISCUSS PARK BOND ELECTION

Mayor and City Officials Are to Meet at Banquet for Purpose.

At a banquet tonight at which Mayor Frank K. Mott will preside and members of the City Council, Board of Works and Park Commission will be the guests, the recent controversy concerning a park bond election will be taken under consideration. The banquet will be held at 6:30 this evening at the Forum.

The Park Commission recently presented a recommendation to the council for the distribution of $1,093,000 to be raised by bond election and to be used in purchasing new park sites and in improvements. The council objected to the indefiniteness of the recommendation and returned it back to the commission. The Park Commission has again returned the report to the council and the banquet this evening will be for the purpose of working out some sort of a reconciliation and basis for future mutual understanding.

It is said that Miss Eggers has taken care of Trebois' child ever since April 26, 1906, when his wife left him.

Transport Delayed By Broken Engine

HONOLULU, July 15.—The United States transport Sherman, bound from San Francisco to Manila, is the latest addition to the fleet of crippled government vessels in this harbor. The Sherman arrived here July 12 and it developed yesterday that the delay in her departure was due to the fact that the transport's port engines had broken down on the trip from San Francisco. It is not known when the Sherman will be able to proceed to Manila.

Tacoma Mayor's Daughter Receives Rough Handling at Woman's Hands.

TACOMA, Wash., July 15.—Mistaken for the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seth W. Macdonald, Margaret Fawcett, the 11-year-old daughter of Mayor A. V. Fawcett, was seized yesterday by an unknown man while she was playing in the front yard of her home, thrown into an automobile and whisked away at high speed.

A short time after she returned home, her nose bleeding and her face badly scratched, and said she had been released when it was discovered she was not Ruth Macdonald.

Miss Fawcett's bruises were caused by the rough handling she received when thrown into the auto.

Mrs. Lizzie McCabe, mother of Ruth Macdonald, was in the auto and she ordered the child's release upon discovering that she was not her daughter.

SUBMARINES SEEK MISSING TORPEDO AT BOTTOM OF SEA

SAN DIEGO, July 15.—A $2000 torpedo used in practice by submarines is being violently hunted by the submarines Grampus and Pike, the navy tug Fortune and a force of divers.

The torpedo was discharged from one of the submarine boats during a drill and sank to the bottom of the bay. The divers worked all day yesterday and are at it again this morning in an attempt to find the lost torpedo.

The submarines today will go down the bay toward National City to resume target practice with torpedoes.

MILLER HOLDINGS FOR HOMESTEADS

Great Work of Colonization to Be Carried Out by Head of Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—A work of colonization equal in its scope to that of many of the largest homesteading enterprises of a great government will be commenced when the vast holdings of Miller & Lux, lands that reach from southern California up into Nevada and Oregon, will be subdivided and parceled out to homeseekers and farmers.

These vast holdings, over which millions of head of cattle have ranged, are to be cut up and apportioned for the reason that there is no head to guide the destinies and the fortunes of the great business that has been a model for successful enterprise in this country and the world.

Henry Miller, the man responsible for the laying of the foundation of this vast empire, is 80 years old and has as yet failed to throw on the shoulders of any one person his cloak of authority.

STILL ACTIVE HEAD

He is still the active head of the organization but has come to the realization that he cannot always remain so and that rather than have the business crash on the rock of failure through poor management he intends to divide and sell the great property for the use of home seekers and farmers.

"I have grown up with this organization—I have made it," he says. "I do not want to see my years of labor lost."

"I will stay in the business until I die," he continued. "I would not know what to do. Retiring from business has never occurred to me."

FIRST CLEW TO MURDER MYSTERY

Neighbor Says She Heard Mrs. Crippen Beg for Mercy in Cellar's Depths.

[illegible] who will be determined is a matter of doubt, but the importance of this point is not being overlooked. Though the police appear to be satisfied that it was Crippen's wife who found a grave in the cellar of his home, so far as known the identity of the victim has not been established to the satisfaction of the law. After death the body was cut to pieces and some of the bones were removed as if by a hand skilled in surgery, and the flesh covered with quicklime that destroyed the possibility of easy recognition.

The police consider as significant the story of the [illegible] woman who told of hearing the reports from revolver [illegible] the Crippen garden on different [illegible] aroused during the night by a woman's screams. A revolver was found nearby where the body was unearthed.

HAD LITTLE MONEY

It developed that [illegible] Crippen had in his possession [illegible] when he disappeared. [illegible] the police [illegible] in the [illegible] jewelry which had been his wife's. From this they [illegible] that he will attempt to dispose of the jewels.

The police [illegible] their [illegible] of the Crippen residence and [illegible] the premises [illegible] ground for bodies other than the one discovered.

LINER IS SEARCHED

NEW YORK, July 15.—The first of the liners on which it was thought that Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen might reach here from England passed up the bay early this morning after having undergone a search at quarantine which failed to reveal any sign of the American doctor whose wife was found murdered in his London home. The steamer was the [illegible], which left England Saturday. [illegible] Crippen was supposed to have taken passage for this country in company with a young woman named Ethel Clare Le Neve, formerly the doctor's stenographer.

The steamer [illegible], due from Liverpool Sunday, and all other steamers from English ports reaching here within the next few days will be watched by the New York police. German steamers touching at Hoboken, N. J., will be searched and no [illegible] this country will be [illegible] effort [illegible] the fugitive.

On notification from the police of Trenton, N. J., New York headquarters detective was dispatched to Trenton today to examine the body of an unidentified man who shot himself in that city yesterday in a baseball park. The man resembled Dr. Crippen in many particulars, being about the doctor's age and stature and wearing a short mustache which appeared to have been recently trimmed. Crippen had a long mustache of dark brown when he left London.

LETTER CAUSED INQUIRY

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—A letter written by H. O. Crippen of this city, son of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, who is being sought by Scotland Yard detectives for the alleged murder of his wife, was directly responsible for first directing suspicion against the supposed uxoricide. When young Crippen received in March a communication from the Ladies' Musical Guild of London inquiring for particulars of the death of his stepmother in Los Angeles he replied to the effect that she had not been in this city, but had succumbed to pneumonia in San Francisco. This statement contradicting the story given out by his father to the effect that Mrs. Crippen had died and been buried in Los Angeles, led to the investigation which ultimately had its climax in the finding of the woman's body in the cellar of the Crippen residence.

H. O. Crippen sought in vain today for the letter received from his father in February announcing the death of Mrs. Crippen. Although the missive was not brought to light, he was enabled to quote it in substance from memory owing to its brevity. It was thus as follows:

"Dear Son: I am very sorry to write you that my beautiful wife died recently in San Francisco. She went there to attend to an estate, and while en route contracted pneumonia. She died in San Francisco suffering from pleuro pneumonia."

"That was the last word I had from my father," said Crippen today. "I have not seen him in sixteen years and he seldom corresponded with me. Since I was two years of age I lived with my grandparents up to the time of my recent marriage. I had never seen my stepmother and she had never been in Los Angeles.

INQUIRY FROM LONDON

"Soon after the receipt of the letter announcing her death I was asked by the Ladies' Musical Guild of London to send particulars, the members of the guild having been informed that she died in Los Angeles. I answered at once, informing them that Mrs. Crippen had not been in Los Angeles, but that I had been told that she had died in San Francisco.

"I have no very great affection for my father, but share the belief of my grandparents that a dreadful mistake has been made, and that should he be found he will be able to clear himself of all suspicion. We have no knowledge of his whereabouts, he merely having written to grandfather that he intended to go on a long journey in order to forget to some extent his great sorrow."

NEGLECTED AGED PARENT

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—In an interview today Myron A. Crippen, aged [illegible], father of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, spoke sorrowfully of the latter's neglect of his parents.

"We tried to make a good man of him, and I shall not believe him guilty of any wrongdoing until it is proved," said he. "But he neglected us for many years. We asked of him only that he write and tell us how he was getting along. I have written to him every month, but since a year ago last May he has ignored my letters. He did not notify me of his wife's death, sending only a brief letter to his son, and since then we have had no word from or trace of him."

NOT COUNT'S DAUGHTER

Mrs. Crippen said that Belle Elmore was not the daughter of a Polish count as reported, but was an Italian girl whose [illegible] lived in Long Island, N. Y., only two years ago.

Dr. Crippen, she said, began his practice in San Diego, Cal., more than twenty years ago, his mother providing funds for his start. Later he practiced in Los Angeles and then went to Salt Lake where his first wife died. Their young son was turned over to the grandparents and thereafter Dr. Crippen manifested little interest in his child or his parents.

Dr. Crippen's mother died in this city in January, 190[illegible].

PRACTICED IN SALT LAKE

SALT LAKE, July 15.—Dr. H. H. Crippen practiced his profession in this city during the years 1891 and 189[illegible]. While residing here his wife, Charlotte J. Crippen, died. The recorded cause of death is paralysis and apoplexy.

more that they decided to establish themselves in business and here too they have since remained, enjoying one of the most lucrative drygoods trades in this section and occupying an elevated position among the leading firms in the western part of the country.

The doors of their first store were opened in 1879 at 1003 Broadway near Tenth street. There the firm remained for several years and later opened a new place at 1107 Broadway near the building of the former Union National Bank. Still later they purchased the site at the northwest corner of Washington and Twelfth streets, on which they constructed the present magnificent store which they have since occupied and which was specially designed for the purpose of affording their customers every convenience known to designers of commercial institutions.

The success which attended the firm was pronounced for the reason that the house scarcely ever found itself located in a new structure before the increase of business compelled a remodeling and an enlargement of the same for the purpose of more satisfactorily dispatching and relieving the pressure of business.

ENLARGE QUARTERS

It is only a few years since the firm enlarged its quarters by taking in an adjoining structure to the east on Twelfth street, [illegible] its own building, [illegible] another immense structure on Thirteenth street, which made the store one of the largest on the Pacific coast.

Although a busy man in attending to the concerns of his store, Mr. Kahn always found time to devote to good deeds and helpful efforts in the advancement of this city. He was a member of all the big organizations and at the time of his death his name was upon the roster of every organization of [illegible] and which is now extant in Oakland.

He early became identified with the Oakland Board of Trade and [illegible] was president of that organization, which was the pioneer body having at heart the progress of this city. He remained with it until it was merged into the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, of which afterward he also became a member.

MEMBER OF MASONS

The deceased was a member of the order of Masons, attaining to the [illegible] degree. He was always considered one of the most devoted members of the [illegible] in his attendance and in his relations with his fellows in the exalted principles and high purposes of the organization.

His devotion to his religion [illegible] was sincere and unobtrusive and for [illegible] important position [illegible] congregation, the synagogue [illegible] at the corner of Twelfth and [illegible] streets. In the move which is now in progress to build another and more modern temple of worship [illegible] Telegraph avenue, for which a lot has already been purchased, he took an active part and would have been of invaluable assistance in the undertaking had he not been so suddenly called away.

IN CLEAN POLITICS

Although taking an interest in politics, it was never as a politician that he did so, but as a citizen who was in favor of good government. He never sought political office, although importuned on many occasions to stand for some of the most exalted places in the gift of the community and to which the mention of his name with his consent as an aspirant would be attended by election.

The only position he permitted himself to accept was one which had little but work connected with it, and that was a member of the board of directors of the Industrial Home for the Adult Blind on Telegraph avenue, and this position he accepted for the reason that he had been importuned so to do at the time because that institution had fallen in hard places and practical business men were absolutely needed to bring it back again to a plane of stability and usefulness. When his good work had been accomplished he retired from the place, but the effect of his work and example has not yet been forgotten.

PLEASANT MEMORIES

The last appearance of Mr. Kahn before any of the local civic bodies of Oakland was on the occasion of the great industrial banquet which was given in the Scottish Rite Cathedral a year ago under the auspices of the Progress and Prosperity committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. That was generally conceded to be the most successful spread of the kind from a practical standpoint which has ever been held in this city. On that occasion Mr. Kahn was one of the gentlemen selected to respond to a toast and the manner in which he discharged the trust is one of the pleasant memories of the evening. He spoke easily, gracefully and learnedly, developing his theme with the ease of an accomplished [illegible], a man accustomed to think while standing and possessed of a fund of facts which made his effort one of the most practical of the discourses of the evening.

SILENT BENEFACTOR

In the line of benevolence Mr. Kahn was a frequent visitor, but his giving was not done in the glare of notoriety but in seclusion, and with the injunction that the world was not to know of his benefactions. In times of trouble or misfortune his employes found him ever willing and able to act in [illegible], alleviating the pains of the other. This peculiarity led to his being chosen as a director of the [illegible] Orphan Asylum, as also of the Home for the Aged and Disabled in San Francisco.

In social and fraternal work Mr. Kahn engaged with wonderful zeal, and the result of his efforts is cherished by many other members of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, with which he was long identified.

MANY TO MOURN

The deceased was the brother of the late Henry Kahn, who was associated with him in the local business house, the late Dr. S. S. Kahn of San Francisco, and [illegible], the now sole surviving member of the original firm of Kahn Brothers in this city, John Kahn of Los Angeles, Mrs. Hanna K. Zelme of Oakland, Mrs. Alice [illegible] of Sacramento, Mrs. Simon Katten of San Francisco, and Mrs. Henry S. Manheim of this city.

Steps are already being taken by the officers of the several civic organizations to prepare a tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased and the edifying example which his career has been to the young manhood of the community.

OMAHA, July 15.—Miss Dorothy Miller, daughter of Mrs. Ida Miller of East Thirty-eighth street, Chicago, was married here yesterday to Mitsuzo Shofu, a Japanese [illegible] man of New York city. The bridegroom is a graduate of Leland Stanford University.

The couple met here by appointment and after securing a license went to a number of Catholic clergymen, each of whom refused to perform a marriage ceremony. Later they appeared before a justice of the peace who married them.

Mrs. Shofu says she first met her husband at her mother's home a year ago, where they were introduced by a Japanese servant. It was a case of love at first sight.

MAY DENY AUDITOR RECAPITULATION TAX SHEETS

Feared That His Office Will Be Unable to Obtain Those of Assessor.

ARE USED AS CHECK ON ASSESSMENT ROLL

Have Been Great Help in the Cleaning Up of County's Work for Year.

County Auditor Lutgen will this year propbably be deprived of the County Assessor's recapitulation sheets on the tax rolls.

The recapitulation sheet made by the County Assessor is required by law. It consists of the totals made at the bottom of each page of the assessment rolls, these totals being entended in columns headed with the titles of the various funds into which taxes collected upon the property shall be put when collected.

The County Auditor also makes a recapitulation sheet, showing the same facts and made in the same manner. This recapitulation sheet is forwarded by the Auditor to the State Controller and must be absolutely accurate.

USED AS CHECK.

It has been the custom of Assessor in this county to send these recapitulation sheets to the Auditor. The Auditor goes over the assessment rolls, making his own totals at the bottom of each page, and the totals are then transferred to the recapitulation sheet. The recapitulation sheet of the Assessor is compared. If a discrepancy exists it is checked back through the rolls and the figures verified.

The effect of the Auditor having the Assessor's sheets is only to furnish a means of checking the figures of the Auditor's force with the figures of other men. The Auditor makes his own totals anyway. Giving the Auditor these recapitulation sheets imposes no extra duties upon the Assessor, and in the past has always been done in the spirit that should prevail between the various departments of county government, that the duty of officials to the people who elected them shall be best and most expeditiously discharged.

MAY CHANGE CUSTOM.

"I do not know whether we will give the Auditor the recapitulation sheets this year or not," said Chief Deputy County Assessor Thomas M. Robinson today. "We have not made up the sheets as yet, and do not know whether we will give them to Auditor Lutgen when we do."

Robinson is seeking the Republican nomination for County Clerk, which office is one of the most important in the county, and in which proper administration gives greatest help to all other departments of county government.

"I would be glad to receive the Assessor's recapitulation sheets for the help they would be in checking the figures that must be taken in my office," said Auditor Lutgen today. "I am informed that it has been the practice for the Assessor to extend to the Auditor this courtesy. I do not know of any reason why the practice should be varied this year, but will nevertheless be able, and will get my work out on time and correctly. Being deprived of these sheets means a little more work than would be necessary if we had the sheets."

DENTIST DENIES BREAKING TEETH

Dr. Faulkner Pleads Not Guilty to the Charge of Battery.

Dr. C. A. Faulkner, a dentist, who was arrested yesterday on a warrant obtained by H. A. Hillier for attacking him and kicking him out of the office on Broadway, appeared in Judge Smith's court this morning and pleaded not guilty to the charge. His case was set for July 25.

Hillier accuses Dr. Faulkner of having attacked him when he went to the dentist's office to plead for the return of his wife's false teeth, which the dentist had retained on account of a dispute over a bill. In the dispute that followed, Hillier claims, the dentist hurled the teeth on the floor and then kicked him out of the office.

PRIMARY LAW EXPLAINED BY COUNTY CLERK COOK

Many in All Sections of the State Misunderstand Purpose of the Measure, Asserts Local Official; Cannot Vote Straight Ticket

County Clerk Cook states that in some sections, not alone of this county, but also in other counties in the state, there is a misunderstanding of some of the features of the new primary law. This misunderstanding, he says, may result in a number of Republicans failing to enjoy all the political benefits which the law in question is supposed to confer.

Some people are of the impression that if they register for the primaries and set forth the name of the party with which they are affiliated, they must support the ticket which will be presented at the general election.

Such, however, is not the case under the law in question. The restriction in this respect, namely requiring the voter to announce his party as a prerequisite to registering for the primary, is intended to prevent the voter from voting in the matter of nomination of more than one primary party ticket.

After having complied with the law in this respect, and the voter feels that his preferred candidate has not been nominated, he is at liberty to vote for whom he pleases at the general election.

That ballot will be absolutely private, the same as all other ballots, and there will be no restriction as to whom a voter may vote for.

NO STRAIGHT TICKET.

Another feature which County Clerk Cook points out in this connection is that there will be no such thing as voting the straight this-or-that ticket at the coming primaries. This will be because on the Republican ticket as also on the Democratic, and whatever other ticket may be in the field, will appear the names of all the members of that party who are seeking the nomination for any office on that ticket. For instance, on the Republican ticket at the primary, for the office of governor will appear the names of all the candidates who for some time past have been mentioned for the candidacy for the office, namely Curry, Anderson, Ellery, Johnson and Stanton. But the voter can vote for but one of these and that vote must be cast by marking a cross after the name of the candidate preferred. To mark a cross after two or more of these names would destroy the ballot for the sheet would have to be thrown out when it should come up for examination by the officers of the voting precinct.

RENTS NEW QUARTERS.

At the headquarters of Alden Anderson in the Macdonough building, another room has been rented adjoining the room which has been used up to the present, and in this apartment, which is now being supplied with furniture, electric lighting and other necessary accommodations, will be quartered Frank Bilger, the manager of Anderson's campaign.

Heretofore Bilger has confined the greater part of his time to the other side of the bay in the conduct of the campaign, but after this he will divide his time between this city and San Francisco. In fact, he will spend more of his time here than in San Francisco, for the reason that he will be at his desk here all the forenoon, directing matters in this section and holding confidential conferences with the leaders in the work in the various parts of the county.

The afternoons will be spent in San Francisco and then in the evenings Mr. Bilger will be found in his room here referred to, until late in the night.

SEND OUT LITERATURE.

In the adjoining room there are many scenes of activity. There is a corps of women typewriters who as fast as they can manipulate the machines are writing addresses of voters in all parts of the county, to whom Assistant Secretary Fowe is sending a large pamphlet containing a fine portrait of Mr. Anderson, some of the most important features of the primary election law which it is advisable for voters to be familiar with, together with a number of other interesting political facts and a compendium of the career of Anderson and the services which he has rendered the people. There are 56,000 of these documents to be sent through the mails and it is expected they will bring home to many voters the points in the life of the candidate considered of importance at this juncture.

The headquarters of Charles F. Curry in the Globe Hotel at Broadway and Thirteenth streets, is receiving callers every day from people in Alameda county and other sections in this vicinity who are calling especially for the purpose of enrolling themselves among the Curry force.

BELIEVE IN CURRY.

Some of these men say that they have known Curry for years and that they believe him to be one of the most practical business men of the state and that there is no other candidate who has so great a hold upon the hearts of the people.

They also assert that there is no other candidate for the position of governor who is so thoroughly familiar with the history of the legislation of this state, the needs of the people in all parts of it and the best way to bring about the thorough development of the state and the advertising abroad of the marvelous resources of California.

From these quarters circulars are being sent to tens of thousands of voters in this county who have signed their name to the Curry cards. These circulars contain political information which can be made use of by the voter at this time by way of preparing him and his friends for an intelligent vote at the primaries.

There is now in course of formation in this city a Latin-American club which will have at least 1500 members. This will be one of the most enthusiastic organizations of this kind which has ever been formed in California.

KNOW CURRY WELL.

Many of the members are personally acquainted with Curry and there are none of these who are not so situated who have not at some time or other heard of the good deeds of Curry to some of their countrymen, either in the way of important information when making application for citizenship or in securing employment or in a hunded-and-one ways which may be made use of by a liberal gentleman of wide acquaintance and influence.

Cal Ewing, one of the managers for Curry who has up to the present time been devoting his energies for Curry on the other side of the bay, has come here and taken possession of the Curry offices referred to and will remain here with the other workers until after the primary.

This means that during the intermediate period there will be a campaign in which there will be an enormous amount of hustling performed.

The office of County Clerk Cook will be open again this evening for the purpose of enabling voters who have not yet registered to do so and this opportunity ought not to be overlooked for the reason that it is an accommodation which is worthy of receiving considerable attention.

The man who has not registered ought to know, by this time, that he can not vote at the coming primaries and that means that he will have no part in picking out a man or men, whom, later, he would like to aid in electing to the various important offices in both the state and county. Only a few days remain and delay may mean disfranchisement and that is something which an American citizen should be loath to charge himself with.

LEAVITT ENDORSED.

Senator Frank W. Leavitt, who is a candidate for the position of Senator on the Republican ticket from the Sixteenth district, has been endorsed by the Alameda county regular Republican club which contains some of the best known Republican workers in the county.

Supervisor J. M. Kelley is making a quiet campaign which, in thoroughness and effective work has never been excelled in this county. It is of the quiet order. There is little of the hurrah or bravura style about it. It is full of earnestness. It is unlike that of some of the candidates for the position of governor, for the reason that these candidates, in travelling through the State, meet hundreds of people for the first time. That is not the case with Kelley who is personally known to almost every voter in his district. He has no need of waiting for an hour to first get acquainted with a man before approaching him upon the subject of his candidacy and, when that subject is introduced, it is usually followed by a pledge to support the supervisor.

DEMOCRATIC VOTE.

One of the features which will be shown in the returns after the primaries will be that of the large number of Democrats who will vote for Mr. Kelley in his district. The candidate is as well known among that class of people almost as he is among the members of his own party, for the reason that there is a large number of Democrats in his district, and, in the discharge of his duties as supervisor, Kelley has made no distinction along partisan lines when the welfare of the district was the point in view.

MOTT CHEERED.

There was a great deal of regret that, owing to sickness which came on suddenly, County Recorder Mott was unable to be present at the meeting which was held last night under the auspices of the Young Men's Republican Club when several of the other county candidates were in attendance.

The fact of Mott's illness was made known to the immense audience by Geo. Boysen and if the Recorder could have heard the cheer of sympathy which greeted his name when it was mentioned by Boysen he would have been able to jump from his couch a well man. The demonstration showed that the Recorder has a warm place in the appreciation of the voters of the county.

JORDAN IN CITY.

Frank C. Jordan, formerly county clerk of this county, still later clerk of the supreme court of this State and who is now a candidate for the position of Secretary of State, to succeed Charles F. Curry, is in this city today, reminding his friends that he is the best advertised candidate for the last-mentioned position now in the field. He says that there is no part of the State that he has not been in and in which he has not proclaimed his candidacy as also that he has met more people individually and recorded them as his supporters than was ever done in a canvass before by one man in this or any other State. He has a trunkful of memorandums in which these names are first entered with the address of the voter and, later, after the active hours of the day, these names are systematically recorded in registers specially prepared for them under the head of township, precinct, ward and county. Jordan says that such a list is of inestimable value.

Railroad Agreement Averts Big Strike

Achilles Alberti, Baritone, Who Will Be Heard at Idora

ACHILLE ALBERTI, baritone with the Bevani Grand Opera Company coming to Idora Park on Sunday in Rigoletto, which will be played the second week.

Oakland people will enjoy their first bit of grand opera at Idora Park Sunday when the Bevani Opera company will present "Faust." Following this production, the company will be seen and heard in several of the most prominent high class operas of the world's history.

Owing to the fact that the Idora Park management, as well as other theater directors of the city, have been urged for many years past to inaugurate such a program as is now contemplated at the park it is expected that the Bevani company will be met with genuine enthusiasm Sunday, which will insure a continuance of the project to the enjoyment of music lovers about the bay.

The troupe which Bevani has brought to this city, including the well-equipped orchestra, numbers fifty people, among whom are some of the most popular Italian opera singers on two continents. "Faust" will be the attraction for the entire week, following which "Rigoletto" will be produced. The company has been booked for a four weeks engagement, which will be extended to ten weeks if the reception given the opera by the people of the bay cities will warrant such action.

ACCEPT DOCTRINE OF ETERNAL LIFE

The Lutheran Synod Agree to Argument Set Forth by Rev. H. Haserodt.

Believing in the absolute doctrine of "Life Eternal," according to the idea set forth in the third thesis of a paper read this morning by Rev. H. Haserodt, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of East Oakland, before the ministers and teachers attending the district synod of German Lutheran Churches now in session in Zion's German Lutheran Church, Twelfth and Myrtle streets, the synod accepted the idea that, while there are doubts as to the eventual acquisition of eternal life proceeding out of a belief, there is certainty in eternal life which is effected and wrought by the holy spirit of God by means of grace.

REPORT PROGRESS.

Reports of the progress of the missionary societies, the Lutheran colleges and the treasury of the district synod were read yesterday at the afternoon session of the convention. The meeting was called to order by Rev. Bernthal, president of the district synod; Rev. C. Strassen, general vice-president of the synod of Missouri, Ohio and other states gave a report concerning the funds of the colleges and stated that they were not in a flourishing condition. He said that there is a deficit in that treasury.

Rev. Mr. Strassen suggested that all the Lutheran churches celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of Dr. C. F. W. Walther, one of the founders of the Lutheran churches in the United States.

Announcement was made by Rev. Strassen that an attempt will be made at the convention of the German Lutheran Churches to be held in St. Louis in May, 1911, to raise $1,000,000 for the Lutheran celebration.

PRESENT TO WIFE CAUSE OF ARREST

Pearl Pistol for Burglar Gets Hubby Into Serious Trouble.

Presented with a pretty pearl inlaid pistol by his father-in-law as a present to his wife to be used by her in warding off the attacks of possible burglars, Samuel Carl, a clerk, started across the bay from San Francisco for his home in Oakland. On the way he accidentally brushed against a police tusher, and the officer, feeling the butt of the revolver, arrested Carl for carrying a concealed weapon.

In Judge Smith's court this morning Carl told his story and presented corroborative testimony. He had had the weapon in his possession only half an hour, and within a few minutes would have presented it to his wife. The case was dismissed on the motion of the prosecuting attorney.

BIG IMPROVEMENT IS ORDERED BY COMMITTEE

Ten Thousand Feet of Sewer to Be Installed in the First Ward.

BIG DRAINAGE SYSTEM PLANNED BY ENGINEER

Recommendation to Council to Entail Expenditure of $28,000 for Work.

Forecasting the completion of an extensive drainage system in the annexed district to the First ward and adjoining the Rock Ridge Park tract, plans prepared by City Engineer Turner for almost 10,000 feet of sewer to cost $28,000 were recommended to the city council by the drainage and sanitary committee at its meeting last night. The work is to be started as soon as possible, and bids will be advertised for immediately by the city in the hope that the work may be well toward completion before the rainy season.

The plans call for a splendid drainage and sewer system, and are made to take in a large area from College avenue east across Broadway and into the section annexed to the First Ward.

MATERIALS OF BEST.

The materials called for are of the best. For the most part the sewer will be twenty-eight inches by forty-two inches deep. In addition to the sewer extending up the valley as a tributary to the big Manila avenue main, there will be two lines of sewer extending about six blocks out Broadway from Fourth avenue.

This double line of sewer on Broadway although more expensive than a single sewer, means a smaller expense in the long run to the householders as only a short line from the residence to the main is made necessary. In addition to this, Broadway which is a big thoroughfare, wider than many of the streets, will not be cut up by the making of house connections with the sewer as is the case with so many of the city streets. It is estimated by the City Engineer that even with the greatest carefulness, the street is never put back after being torn open in exactly the same condition as before.

The line of storm drainage and sanitary sewer will extend from Manila avenue out Prospect avenue to Broadway, to and along McAdam to Park Road and Keith street. There will also be a short line from College avenue to Broadway on Fourth avenue.

EXPENDITURE HEAVY.

The work will entail an expenditure of $28,000 and is part of the civic betterment plans outlined by the city engineer this spring. It received the unanimous recommendation from the committee last night and will probably be given the immediate endorsement of the council, followed by the placing of the work in the hands of the Board of Public Works.

The improvement will mean much to the tracts affected. It will mean a raise in property values. It is part of the improvement promised the annexed sections when the election was held some time ago.

SAY IMPROVEMENT WILL WORK INJURY

Members of Improvement Club Vote Against Proposed Action.

At a meeting of the Fifth Ward Improvement Club held in the Richmond avenue assessment district last night, about 200 property owners from that vicinity unanimously voted down the proposed improvement of the Richmond boulevard by opening it up from Bay Place and Twenty-fourth street junction to Randwick street, in accordance with the recent action taken by the city council.

The trouble has been smouldering for a long time, the land owners in the district which will be affected by the improvement asserting that the expense of opening the boulevard will necessitate an unjust assessment on the small holder. At a recent meeting of the city council it was agreed that the city, out of the park and boulevard fund, meet from $5000 to $20,000 of the $45,000 expenditure which the work will incur.

OF LITTLE AVAIL.

This the property owners declare will be of little avail. They maintain that the entire work should be paid for by the city, but express their willingness to let the matter drop entirely if an agreement can be reached. A committee of seven, composed of Harry C. Wuerth, chairman; W. H. Rab, F. J. Calahan, H. S. Fairchild, C. L. Donohoe, H. Astredo and Edward Kely, was appointed to confer with the committee appointed by the city council at its last meeting.

The conference has been called for 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and by general consent will be held at the home of Council President Pendleton, 1308 Webster street. The maps of the locality will be carefully gone over at this time and if it is deemed necessary the land will be investigated. In this way it is hoped some decision can be reached.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

A committee to oversee the improvement of Cemetery creek, which runs along Richmond boulevard as far as Moss avenue, was also appointed, the members including A. J. Saak, chairman; H. Hinman and H. Astrado. The body will confer with the street and sanitary commission in an effort to have the creek cleaned up and properly maintained.

A resolution endorsing Harry C. Wuerth for secretary of the board of freeholders was suggested and unanimously passed by the members present.

ANTI-SPEED CLUB TAXPAYERS' PLAN

Jas. P. Taylor Protests Against Relaxing of Law Controlling Autoists.

OAKLAND, July 14.—EDITOR TRIBUNE. Dear Sir: As a charter member of the Chamber of Commerce and a citizen and taxpayer since 1879, I desire to voice my earnest protest against any relaxing of the enforcement of the speed law. With all the vigilance of the police our lives are menaced every day by reason of defiance of the law, on the part of some of the autoists. It is high time that an anti-speed society be formed and joined by all good citizens, whose prime object will be to suppress speeding in our streets and to protect our loved ones from the dreadful fate of Colonel Banten and others, who have been killed or maimed by autoists.

The auto is not to blame. It is a useful and serviceable vehicle and when used with care is not objectionable, but as used by too many is an ever present danger and a menace to life. The many accidents that are taking place are appalling and with the increasing number of automobiles the risk and danger is greatly increased. This being the case the officers of the law should not be censured for trying to make autoists keep within the speed limit. On the contrary, our citizens should highly commend and uphold them in their endeavor to protect life and property. Nearly every day I see autoists violate the speed limit, rushing down Telegraph avenue, and it is really wonderful that more people are not injured.

PAY HEAVY TAXES.

We have paid heavy taxes and large sums of money for improvement of our streets, and we certainly are entitled to enjoy a walk on them without the constant fear and danger of being run over by some thoughtless autoist. But do we enjoy this right? NO! Conditions have become unbearable by reason of the defiant and arrogant actions of some autoists.

Autoists are a small minority of our population, yet they act as if our roads and streets were built for them alone, and they each and every day outrageously defy and trample upon the rights of all others. They should be compelled to properly respect these rights. Every citizen should insist that a pedestrian, be he rich or poor, has as much right to the use of any of our street crossings as any vehicle has, and that his rights shall and must be respected, and that no automobile shall be run over these crossings or around the corner of a street at such a speed or in such a manner as to endanger life. At present we all know and see this is done day after day, defiantly and with the utmost arrogance. I most earnestly protest against such a fearful menace to life and to our free use of our streets and thoroughfares.

EXERCISE VIGILANCE.

I trust that our city fathers and our police commissioners will see to it that there be no increase of speed permitted, but that on the contrary more vigilance be exercised and more protection afforded to those who do not own an automobile and who have to take their exercise on foot.

I plead for the protection of life, and it should be of paramount importance. What does the few dollars spent by autoists amount to when compared to the danger to the life and limbs of our loved ones? At all times there is enough danger to keep every mother worrying and anxious lest some accident happen to her child. Surely this danger should as much as possible be reduced to a minimum. Our officers and our judges should construe and enforce the law so that at all times these dear ones shall be protected.

With so many being injured the time has certainly come when all those who openly and defiantly break the speed law should be prosecuted vigorously and punished severely. We know that the penalty of a $10 fine has long ago become a farce and is not adequate to prevent or protect from the so-called speed burners. It has been fully demonstrated that to an autoist mere warnings from our judges, or small fines, are useless as a preventive of speeding. The crazy mania cannot be stopped with lenient methods. Only stern repressive measures and heavy fines with imprisonment will have any effect, and this is what is urgently needed at this time. Yours respectfully,

JAMES P. TAYLOR.

Hayward Would Be On Foothill Boulevard

HAYWARD, July 15.—The residents of this place are exerting every effort to influence the supervisors to map out the new foothill boulevard so that it will take in Hayward, and the supervisors, accompanied by County Surveyor Haviland, are today going over the ground to select the route. It is generally conceded that the ornamental boulevard will go through Dublin canyon from Hayward to Livermore. A splendid highway to San Jose is also planned.

The extension of the boulevard has been advocated by County Surveyor Haviland for some years, the great amount of automobiling in the section causing an increased demand for the extended highway. Since the boulevard was built some years ago, at a cost of $300,000, it has been one of the most popular driveways on this side of the bay.

PINCHOT PRAISES INSURGENTS' WORK

Declares They Took Edge Off of Bills Dangerous to Welfare of Country.

KANSAS CITY, July 15.—Gifford Pinchot, ex-chief forester of the government, who will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at the dinner of the Knife and Fork Club here tonight, arrived here this morning. In an interview he said:

"I should like to express with great emphasis the debt of gratitude the country owes to the insurgents for their influence in obtaining good legislation during the last session of congress.

"Some of the bills that were passed were exceedingly dangerous in the form in which they were introduced. Thus the railroad bill, as prepared by Attorney General Wickersham, contained provisions which if adopted would have proved a calamity to the country. The bill was hammered into shape by the insurgents before it was adopted."

Mr. Pinchot said United States Senators Dolliver, Cummins, Clapp, Beveridge and Bristow deserved special credit for their efforts to obtain good legislation.

Asked if Colonel Roosevelt adhered to his original views on conservation, Mr. Pinchot said:

"His acceptance of an invitation to be the principal speaker before the National Conservation congress this year is a sufficient answer to that question."

Mr. Pinchot will leave here for the west late tonight.

"The Conservation of Natural Resources" will be the subject of his speech tonight.

CLERKS APPOINTED TO MAIL BALLOTS

Board of Supervisors Make Arrangements to Handle Primaries.

At a short session of the Board of Supervisors held this morning clerks were appointed to perform the work of mailing sample ballots and notices of polling places and voting numbers to the voters of the county at a compensation of $125 each. Those appointed were A. H. Blow, V. J. Ward, L. J. Cordes, W. W. Chappell, W. H. Hughes, L. L. Asher, J. O. Gustafson, W. A. Jeffries, W. H. Davis and Charles W. Kohl.

J. E. Straus was appointed night watchman, upon motion of Supervisor Kelley, to guard the assessment rolls while they were in the offices of the board, with a salary of $3.50 per night.

The building committee was authorized to provide by rental a sufficient number of tents to be used as polling places for the primary election, and also to provide and set up a requisite number of booths for polling places to be established by the board.

The Supervisors meeting as a board of equalization, took recess until Monday morning, at which time will be taken up the petitions of property owners who feel that they have not been assessed correctly.

WHEELAN DENIES FRAUD CHARGE

Attorney Accused by Flynn Explains Conduct in the Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Attorney A. P. Wheelan appeared before United States Judge Van Fleet this morning and explained his conduct in the case of W. S. Flynn, who pleaded guilty to being in possession of contraband opium. Wheelan admitted to the court that he had received $100 from Flynn's father for the purpose of obtaining bail for his son, but denied that he had ever been employed by either Flynn or his father as attorney for the young man.

He said that shortly after receiving the money young Flynn's bail was raised from $500 to $1000 and that for this reason he (Wheelan) had been unable to obtain the bonds. Then he was called away from the city suddenly and had no time to see Flynn or his father and communicate the facts to them. He told Judge Van Fleet that he had intended to do nothing wrong in the matter, and that he had already repaid Flynn's father the $100 in question.

Judge Van Fleet slightly admonished Wheelan to be more careful about such matters in the future, and then sentenced young Flynn to serve four months in the county jail and pay a fine of $100 for his offense.

Pedestrian Seeks To Break Records

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 16.—John Ennis, aged 69, a Stamford (Conn.) pedestrian who is after the Weston record across the continent, left for the West today, twenty days ahead of Weston's record. He carried a message from Mayor Gaynor of New York to Mayor McCarthy of San Francisco.

GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATES WAGE ACTIVE CAMPAIGNS

REPUBLICAN HEAD TELLS ATTITUDE TOWARD ROADS

"If Elected Will Deal Fair at All Times," Asserts Alden Anderson.

SAYS EFFORT IS MADE TO EXCITE PREJUDICES

"Have Made No Pledge to the Corporations," States the Candidate for Governor.

Allen Anderson, former lieutenant-governor and State superintendent of banks, now candidate for the regular Republican nomination for governor at the primary election to be held on August 16, makes a statement in an interview just published in The Argus of Petaluma.

The article quoting Anderson as published in The Argus follows:

"If I am so fortunate as to be nominated and elected governor of California my attitude toward the Southern Pacific and all other railroad companies in this State will be just the same as would be my attitude toward any other corporation or an individual or collection of individuals. If the Southern Pacific Railroad Company came to me and wanted something that I knew to be wrong the company would not get it. On the other hand if the Southern Pacific Railway Company wanted something from this State that it deserved and ought in all fairness to have I would not simply because the request came from the Southern Pacific Company refuse to grant the request. I am not so narrow and prejudiced as all that."

The foregoing response was made by Alden Anderson, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, in reply to the following question put to him directly by a representative of The Argus:

"What is your attitude in this campaign toward the Southern Pacific Railroad Company?"

NOT UNDER PROMISE

Continuing Mr. Anderson said: "I am well aware of the fact that an effort is being made in this campaign to unduly excite the prejudices of the people as between the railroad corporations and the Republican party. For this reason I desire to say that I am absolutely under no pledge or promise to any individual, corporation or political machine. I am a free agent absolutely, and I will, if elected, enter the governor's office untrammeled and uncontrolled and that I will conduct the affairs of this State in the interests of the State and the people thereof fearlessly, without fear and to the best of my ability.

"The [illegible] cry about the Southern Pacific is merely [illegible] buncombe anyway. There was a time under the old constitution when the railroads were undoubtedly [illegible] active and when they [illegible] and improper legislation. This was all changed by the new constitution which makes it impossible for legislatures to enact special legislation, requiring that all legislation [illegible] in its application.

"The fact of the matter is that in all my years of experience in the assembly as speaker and in the Senate as lieutenant-governor I have never been approached by the Southern Pacific Railway Company or any of its representatives with a request for my support on questionable legislative action.

MATCHLESS ADMINISTRATION

"In this connection it may be permissible to mention the fact that many people in the heat of political campaigns are only too prone to forget or overlook history. For instance many Republicans fail to remember that I went down to the Santa Cruz convention four years ago with Governor Pardee and with the Sacramento delegation behind us looking for renomination for lieutenant governor. The governor and I went down to defeat together but we did so with colors flying. However I took my defeat gracefully, as I could, swallowed my chagrin and took up the task of aiding in the election of Governor Gillett who has brought his party up out of the slough of despond and by his matchless administration of the affairs of this State placed our party beyond the reach of just or sustainable criticism."

AUGUST 19 IS DATE SET BY COMMITTEE FOR THE 1910 REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Sixty-Five Delegates to Be Selected at Primaries to Attend the Sessions Called at the Meeting Last Night

At a meeting of the Republican county central committee last night a county convention of the Republican party was called for Friday, August 19, at 8 o'clock p. m.

There will be 65 delegates to this convention who will be elected from the seven assembly districts in the county, at the primaries August 16.

The county convention will select a new Republican county central committee as also forty three delegates to the Republican state convention which is to be held in San Francisco September 6 of the present year.

It will also frame a platform for the campaign which is to follow the primaries.

In the event that any assembly district shall fail to place a delegation in the field, a committee of seven, one member from each assembly district, is to suggest a delegate ticket for such district or districts subject to the approval of the full committee.

The main body will meet Monday, August 1, to determine whether or not action in the appointment of delegations is required.

MEMBERS PRESENT

At the meeting of the Republican county central committee last night in the rooms of A. P. Leach in the Union Savings Bank building, the chairman of the organization, there were present the following members: [illegible] Callaghan, Colin E. Chisholm, Joseph I. Coughlin, W. M. Fitzmaurice, Thomas N. Garcin[illegible], Dr. J. L. Holmes, W. F. Hamilton, F. F. Hance, William J. Lair, L. G. Parker, J. C. [illegible] (Niles), W. H. Spaulding, John E. Sanford, J. J. Hoffman (San Leandro), C. J. Wade and A. C. Nixon.

In the absence of Chairman Leach Dr. T. P. Holmes was selected to preside. Secretary C. P. Wade read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved.

The secretary stated that he had received a copy of the call for the proposed county convention from the secretary of the Republican state central committee which on motion of W. F. Hamilton was ordered filed.

There was no objection to any of the provisions in the call and the same was adopted unanimously.

COMMITTEE TO INSURE TICKET

Charles E. Snook stated that he was not a member of the committee but that he had had the call submitted by the Republican state central committee examined by some of the attorneys in his office and had ascertained that in all the particulars of the election law there was a compliance in the document.

Snook suggested that a committee be formed for the purpose of appointing a delegate ticket in any assembly district which should fail to put a delegate ticket in the field at the primaries.

WRITING AND PASTING

In reply to questions as to how names were to be got on the primary ballot Snook stated that they could be put there with pasters which could be prepared in advance in each of the assembly districts or the names could be written on the ballot.

W. F. Hamilton favored the appointment of a committee as suggested by Snook declaring that it was in no sense to be considered a factional committee.

Snook said that there ought to be no thought of factionalism. His suggestion was simply intended to make provision for getting a ticket in the field from each assembly district in the event that any district or districts should fail to put up a ticket.

MANY TICKETS EXPECTED

There was a general expression to the effect that there would not be a district which would fail to put up a list of delegates and it was believed that there would be as many as four tickets in some of the assembly districts.

Hamilton moved that it be the sense of the committee that such a committee be appointed and the motion prevailed.

The question then arose as to how many men should be placed on the committee and Hamilton moved that the number be limited to one member from each assembly district.

DANGER IN SMALL NUMBER.

John E. Sanford opposed the one-man theory declaring that it would not be advisable to place within the power of seven or one man from the seven assembly districts in the county the appointment of a county committee.

Hamilton stated that the committee in question would have nothing to do with the appointment of a new county central committee.

Several delegates stated that the committee as proposed would have nothing to do in the event that all the assembly districts placed a delegate ticket in the field, even in case that there was dereliction on the part of any district the committee could do nothing unless its suggestion with respect to a ticket for a delinquent district should be approved by the main body.

Sanford favored the idea of a committee comprising three members from each assembly district but it was finally agreed that there should be only one member from each district on the committee and that the latter was to report to the main body on the first of August as to whether or not there should be appointed a delegation from any of the assembly districts and the report would have to receive the indorsement of the main committee.

COMMITTEE ON DELEGATIONS

The chair then appointed the following committee, one member being selected from each of the assembly districts as follows:

Forty Sixth Assembly District—L. J. Fetchler, San Leandro.

Forty Seventh Assembly District—A. C. Nixon, Alameda.

Forty Eighth Assembly District—E. T. [illegible].

Forty Ninth Assembly District—Colin E. Chisholm.

Fiftieth Assembly District—A. P. Leach.

Fifty First Assembly District—T. M. Collins.

Fifty Second Assembly District—J. Austin L[illegible]ton, Berkeley.

PRIMARY CALL

The call for the county convention which was adopted is as follows:

"Republican county central committee of the county of Alameda, State of California, the governing body of the Republican party, a political organization in the county aforesaid, which said Republican party at the last general election held in and throughout said State and each political subdivision thereof including the said county of Alameda polled more than [illegible] per cent of the entire vote polled and cast at such general election, in meeting assembled in the city of Oakland, county of Alameda, State of California, this 4th day of July, A. D. 1910, adopted this petition and call and hereby declares its intention to hold a Republican county convention in the city of Oakland, county of Alameda, State of California, on the 19th day of August, 1910, at 8 o'clock p. m. on said day and that the delegates duly elected to said county convention as hereinafter provided for and in accordance with the laws of the State of California shall constitute the delegates to said convention. That said county convention is called and will be held for the purpose of electing 43 delegates to the State convention of the Republican party to be held in the city and county of San Francisco on the 6th day of September, A. D. 1910, as apportioned to the county of Alameda by the petition and call of the Republican State central committee, to be the governing body of and which shall have the control and management of the campaign of the Republican party in the county of Alameda and which shall hold office until a new county central committee shall have been selected, and to make nominations for candidates for public office for the purpose of filling vacancies to be voted for at any special election within said county and for which purpose said convention is entitled to make nominations, and to make nominations for any vacancy for which this convention is entitled to make nominations, to promulgate a platform and to transact such other business as may properly come before said county convention.

THE DELEGATES

"That said county convention shall be composed of 65 delegates. The basis of apportionment upon which such delegates are to be elected is as follows:

"One delegate for each 345 votes or major fraction thereof [illegible] cast in the county of Alameda for the Hon. U. S. Grant Jr., Republican nominee for presidential elector at the general election held in California on Tuesday, November 3, 1908. Apportionment herein made is by assembly districts, provided that in any district in which less than 345 votes were cast for Hon. U. S. Grant Jr., Republican nominee for presidential elector, such assembly district shall be entitled to one delegate.

"The apportionment to the respective assembly districts is hereby declared to be as follows:

APPORTIONMENT

46th Assembly District	7 delegates
47th Assembly District	7 delegates
48th Assembly District	6 delegates
49th Assembly District	7 delegates
50th Assembly District	12 delegates
51st Assembly District	1[illegible] delegates
52d Assembly District	1[illegible] delegates
Total	6[illegible] delegates

PLACE ON TICKET

"Delegates to the county convention of the Republican party of the county of Alameda must be elected at the primary election as required by law on Tuesday the 16th day of August, A. ACTIVE CAMPAIGN WAGED BY BELL

Friends Declare That Bourbon Leader Will Be Party's Standard Bearer.

Thus far there has been developed no opposition to Theodore A. Bell for the nomination for Governor on the Democratic ticket although in the early part of the campaign there was talk among the leaders of the dissatisfied elements of the party that there would be another candidate in the field and that Bell would not be the winner.

Bell is alone in the move toward the nomination and no doubt is entertained but he will make the run at the general election in November. He is making a canvass of the state and his friends declare he is making friends in many sections.

WILL NOT FILL TWO VACANCIES

There are but two vacancies on the Democratic state ticket. Up to the present time no aspirant has put in an appearance for the position of Surveyor-General which is now held by William S. Kingsbury, Republican of Los Angeles, who is a candidate for re-election. There is no possibility of any Democrat who may later decide to enter the field giving him any annoyance. The other unfilled position is that of Controller which is now filled by A. B. Nye, Republican, for whom the Democrats at their conference in Los Angeles some time ago decided to support by writing his name on their ballots.

A movement is on foot on the other side of the bay to establish there a Bell-Spellacy club, Spellacy of Los Angeles being the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the Democratic ticket. A meeting with this end in view was held last night but the formation of the organization was deferred until another occasion.

WINNING OIL MEN

Alden Anderson is still in the oil district of the state and is meeting with a demonstrative reception in which he is assured by the oil men that his views on the necessity of a tariff to protect them in the conduct of their business meets with their approval and that he will get their support.

There is no difference between the cordial manner in which he has been received in the land of wells and derricks and that which attended his successful journey through the San Joaquin valley in which he was met on every hand by fruit men who promised him their support.

Richard D[illegible]s, who is a candidate for the position of Lieutenant Governor on the Republican ticket, will be in this vicinity for a couple of days. He says he is satisfied with the reception which he is meeting with in this part of the state and that the number of people who are promising him support is an indication that his candidacy is receiving more attention than he himself thought it would receive at the time he allowed his name to be presented to the people.

ENDORSE TARIFF

BOONEVILLE, Ind., July 1[illegible].—First district Republicans in convention here yesterday endorsed the Payne-Aldrich tariff act. The resolutions which ignore Senator Beveridge's attitude on the tariff refer to him as a brilliant orator.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. WAGNER INDORSED AT CLUB MEETING

Candidate for Office of Secretary of State Makes First Address Here.

A meeting and smoker of the Young Men's Republican Club took place in Castle hall, Twelfth and Franklin streets, last evening. The meeting was called to order by President John H. Griffin and Paul R. Smith acted as secretary. During the evening and in the intervals between the speech making songs and [illegible] were rendered by a quartet.

The principal speaker of the evening was Walter D. Wagner of San Bernardino, candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state. The speech of the candidate greatly impressed the audience. It is Wagner's first appearance in this county.

Daniel Ferguson, candidate for the assembly in the Forty-eighth district, also addressed the meeting and declared that he favored a [illegible] vote for United States senator, a subway between Oakland and Alameda, the establishment of a civic labor bureau, the Panama-Pacific exposition and the consolidation of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley.

CANDIDATES MAKE SPEECHES

Other candidates who made short addresses were:

Frank Barnet, candidate for re-election as sheriff of Alameda county; Joseph M. Kelley for supervisor; John P. Cook for county clerk; Judge George Samuels for justice of the peace; C. J. Lutgen for county auditor; I. H. Clay for assessor and Edwin Stearns for county treasurer.

J. Cal Ewing, representing Charles F. Curry, candidate for governor, addressed the meeting and apologized for the absence of the gubernatorial candidate. Ewing made a favorable report on the candidacy of Curry throughout the state.

L. F. Roller, president of the Alameda county regular Republican Club, made the announcement that a meeting of the club would be held in Castle hall Thursday evening, July 21.

The announcement was made of a meeting of the Sixth Ward Republican Club at Third and Jefferson streets Friday evening, July 22.

Following the speeches at the meeting last night a resolution was adopted endorsing the candidacy of Wagner for secretary of state.

'SQUARE DEAL FOR ALL'—ANDERSON

Candidate for Gubernatorial Nomination Closes Campaign in Oil Fields.

BAKERSFIELD, July 15.—Alden Anderson closed his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor at the August primaries in the oil fields in this section of the state today. In response to an insistent demand of a committee of the business men and oil operators at Maricopa he made a short speech in which he said in part:

"I am a Republican and have been in the legislature. While now seeking political honors I do not consider myself a politician but rather a fruit grower and farmer. There is no act in my public life that I have to apologize for. I believe that no man should aspire to the high office of governor of this great state unless his rectitude of purpose is unquestioned. I have stood by those principles at all times and in all places.

"I have never gone into office under promise to any man or men and I would not now. I would only accept office free and independent and be in a position to do full justice to all the people of the state. For the rich or the poor, for the high or the low, I believe in a square deal."

INVITE CANDIDATES TO SPEAK AT CLUB

Hopkins Street Improvement Organization to Withhold Indorsement.

FRUITVALE, July 15.—Resolutions were passed at last night's meeting of the Hopkins Street Improvement Club of Upper Fruitvale inviting all candidates for offices at the coming election to be present at the meetings of the club, which are held every Thursday night in the club room on the corner of Hopkins and [illegible] streets. It was decided that the club would take no action in endorsing candidates for any office, it being the desire of the members to work only for improvements in the district. Candidates will be given the opportunity of addressing the organization however for the benefit of the individual members.

It was reported at the meeting that almost all of the property owners along the proposed right of way of the extension of the Dimond street car line had signified their willingness to deed over five feet of their land for the widening of the street which is thought to be too narrow for a car line at the present time. This strip of property will soon be deeded to the city and work will be commenced on the extension of the line.

The committee on lights made a report that more arc lights will be placed in the district and those which are already established there will be moved so as to give better service to the entire section.

A request will be sent by the club to the Board of Public Works asking that body to have gravel placed on that portion of Hopkins street from Lincoln to Peralta. The street has been oiled and is objectionable in its present condition.

OFFICE ASPIRANTS RUSH IN PETITIONS

Meetings of Political Sects Are Hurriedly Called to Obey Mandates.

LOS ANGELES, July 1[illegible].—Hurriedly called meetings of Republicans, Democrats and Lincoln Republican Leaguers were held here yesterday so that legislative nominating petitions could be checked up and arrangements made for sending them by special envoys to Sacramento for filing by midnight July 16.

The order of the Third district court of appeals requiring filing with the secretary of state instead of county clerks, caused the politicians here much trouble.

Much checking remains to be done on some petitions but it is expected that two men selected by Democrats and the leaguers will be able to depart this evening. Both have been deputized by the county clerk.

The Democratic envoy will appear in the unique role of Republican representative and also file the petition for that party.

Republican Young Men Organize Club

FRUITVALE, July 15.—The Young Men's Republican Club of Greater Oakland has been formed with a membership of 250 business and professional men of the newly elected district and will take a lively interest in the present campaign.

The following officers have been elected to take charge of the affairs of the progressive organization:

W. G. Thornally Jr., president; W. B. Hackett, first vice-president; Elmer E. Wright, second vice president; M. E. Jacobsen, secretary and treasurer, and W. D. Evans, sergeant at arms.

The executive committee is composed of George Zimmerman, W. H. Manning, Edward Davis, Otto Schmidt, Antone Rossi, J. Murray, G. Bray.

The following committee has been appointed to draw up a set of by-laws: L. W. Shields, J. E. Northrup, F. M. McKay, P. Anderson, Herbert Brough.

An Example of Political Shystering.

Hiram Johnson's letter to the Republican State Committee is a conspicuous bit of political "shystering." It is a subterfuge to evade pledging himself to give loyal support to the nominees of the Republican party and to avoid stating what he proposes to do in the event of his failure to secure the Republican nomination for Governor. It is a shift borrowed from the tactics of the criminal lawyer.

Mr. Johnson's letter apparently assumes that the Republican State Committee will name the candidate for Governor and formulate the platform on which he shall go before the people. The State Committee will do neither. In a broad sense the respective candidates make their own platforms and the Republican voters make the nominations at the polls. It is the business of the State Committee to further the success of the party nominees, not to say who those nominees shall be. In accordance with party custom the several candidates were asked to give a public assurance that they would support the Republican nominees at the general election. All the other candidates promptly answered yes, but Mr. Johnson reviled the State Committee for asking for the assurance and refused to give any.

Virtually he announces that he intends to support the Democratic ticket in case he fails to get the Republican nomination. His failure, of course, will mean that he is not the choice of the Republican voters. As he is competing with four other candidates for the Republican nomination, it is possible for thirty per cent of the Republican ballots cast to give him the nomination. In any event he will be the designated choice of a minority of the Republican vote. Yet he defiantly refuses to give any pledge of loyalty to the Republican ticket.

He says he will not give the pledge demanded by party usage and party loyalty because the State Committee is controlled by the Southern Pacific.

This is an affront prompted by demagogic effrontery. It is a false pretense set up to evade giving an assurance that honor and good faith demand shall be given.

In any event, the Republican voters are not controlled by the Southern Pacific, and under the direct primary law the voters will make the nominations. Mr. Johnson is evidently unwilling to trust the Republican voters. He asks them to nominate him, but refuses to say he will support the candidates they will nominate. In substance, his letter to the Republican State Committee is notice to the Republican voters that he will not abide by their decision unless they give him the nomination for Governor.

In the face of this declaration it is monumental impudence for Hiram Johnson to call himself a Republican.

The Second Congressional district is a large producer of hops, wool, lumber, citrus fruits, sugar beets, dried fruits, wine and quicksilver. All these products are liberally protected by the new tariff law. Yet William Kent is arraigning Duncan E. McKinlay for aiding in the passage of the law. It is not likely that the producers of the Second District will appreciate Mr. Kent's efforts to deprive them of the protection Mr. McKinlay has secured for them.

The Newark, Ohio, Lynching.

Mayor Atherton of Newark, Ohio, has come to the conclusion that discretion is the better part of valor and resigned. He was under suspension by the Governor for thirty days, but declared he would fight to the last ditch if Governor Harmon undertook to remove him. Evidently his courage was not a lasting quality. Like Davy Crockett's coon he has come down, realizing that a bluff would not stand against the State Constitution.

The lynching of an anti-saloon detective who had killed a saloon-keeper while a raid on saloons was in progress was a disgraceful occurrence which could easily have been prevented had the Mayor of Newark and the Sheriff of the county displayed the slightest firmness or taken reasonable precautions. There is every reason to believe that the officials were in sympathy with the mob and purposely refrained from interfering with the lawless demonstration. Hence Governor Harmon is to be commended for bringing the derelict officials to book. Now that he has forced the Mayor out of office it is to be hoped he will also relieve the Sheriff of his authority. A peace officer who allows prisoners in his custody to be lynched without making a determined effort to protect them is utterly unfit to hold office.

But the Anti-Saloon League is not wholly blameless in the matter. In the effort to stop violations of the liquor law the league is resorting to expedients of a questionable character. They imported desperate men from other States to raid the saloons. The young man lynched was from Kentucky who had been imported by a detective agency as a strike-breaker. The same concern supplied men to the Licking County Law Enforcement League to raid saloons engaged in selling liquor in violation of the law. This naturally provoked resentment and resistance. The league should have appealed to the Governor and Attorney General if the county and municipal authorities refused to enforce the law. Instead of doing so the league engaged a body of men picked up any and everywhere to pursue the lawless liquor sellers by violent methods. Law is never brought into respect by employing questionable methods and mercenary agents of doubtful character and antecedents. Only citizens should take part in movements to vindicate the law. Hiring roughs from abroad to raid saloons is a reprehensible practice no matter how good the motives prompting it.

It is a maxim of American jurisprudence that the law affords a remedy for every evil. Even if the liquor sellers of Newark persisted in violating the law, and the violations were tacitly encouraged by the local officials, the laws of Ohio must provide for such emergencies, must provide a way to reach both the violations of law and the derelictions of officials. The power of the State should have been invoked, not the service of an imported band of armed mercenaries. Hired pluguglies discredit any moral movement in which they are employed, and their employment smacks of ruthlessness and violence. Raids conducted by men supplied by private detective agencies are not consistent with the spirit of order or the orderly administration of justice. There was no justification for the failure of the Mayor and Sheriff to do their duty, but the Law Enforcement League is not wholly blameless for the double tragedy that has disgraced Newark and the State of Ohio.

Bertie county, North Carolina, has nominated Joseph Folk for the presidency. Buncombe county will probably declare for William Jennings Bryan, "the peerless, silver-tongued, etc."

The motorist who runs over some person and then dashes away to avoid being identified is either a criminal or a brute and perhaps both. Flight argues guilt, and in cases like that of Colonel Laurie Bunten, who was killed in San Francisco, it is an evidence of callous inhumanity.

The New York correspondent of the "Berliner Tageblatt" commenting upon the action taken by Mayor Gaynor in refusing to issue licenses to theatres where objectionable performances had been produced and on the resolution of the Poster Printers' Association to print no more posters of the kind to which objection had been raised, said: "Every few years the people of the United States suffer with an attack of moral colic. The malady can hardly be called by any other name, as it receives the stamp of burlesque from the fact that things happen in this much lauded land of liberty which one would not expect in police ridden cities of Europe." The letter was the subject of conversation at one of the German clubs in the residence district and one of the younger members said: "The sarcastic correspondent should not be blamed. He was once in the theatrical business, and his fight for his colleagues of former days only proves again that once wedded to the sawdust of footlights there can be no divorce."

The Lancet admits that difficulties in connection with aero traveling are rapidly being surmounted, but it points out that even were they all disposed of a trip through the air would still involve a good deal of nerve. "Seasickness is a terror to many people and the chances are that air sickness will be worse. Most persons, again, have experienced the unpleasant feeling in a lift when it commences its descent, or in a swing when like the pendulum, it swings back. Not a few persons refuse to stand close to the edge of a cliff or to trust themselves to look down into a vast chasm immediately beneath their feet owing to vague feelings of giddiness, fears of falling arising out of a sense of a jeopardized equilibrium."

Telewriter Exchange

London has beaten New York in one feature of up-to-dateness. It has the first "telewriter" exchange in the world, which was recently opened. The "telewriter," it should be explained, is a device for writing by wire. One subscriber to the service calls the number of another through a telephone attachment on the new machine and then sits down and writes what he wants to say the message appearing on a roll of paper at the other end of the line. So far London has only forty subscribers to the new system, confined to a small section of the business center, but before long it is hoped to extend the wires all over the city and to make the service as general as the telephone.

At the meeting of the Board of Education last evening, a communication was received from the Board of Public Works, in which the commissioners gave the educators a slap as to their ability to award contracts. In fact, they demanded the whys and wherefores. The part of the communication which whacks the Board of Education is as follows:

"The board does not feel justified in awarding a contract to the highest bidder, to wit, the Sterling Furniture Company, unless such reasons are given to show that the desk manufactured by said company, considering quality and durability, is the cheaper desk."

SAMENESS OF THE NILE

Some people talk of the sameness of the Nile; and there is a lovely sameness of golden light, of delicious air, of people, and of scenery For Egypt is, after all, mainly a great river with strips on each side of cultivated land, flat, green, not very varied. River, green plains, yellow plains, pink, brown, steel gray or pale yellow mountains, wall of shadow, wall of sakieh. Yes, I suppose there is a sameness, a sort of golden monotony, in this land pervaded with light and pervaded with sound. Always there is light around you, and you are bathing in it, and nearly always, if you are living, as I was, on the water, there is a multitude of mingling sounds floating to your ears. As there are two lines of green land, two lines of mountains following the course of the Nile, so are there two lines of voices that cease their calling and their singing only as you draw near to Nubia.

For then, with the green land, they fade away, these miles upon miles of calling and singing brown men; and amber and ruddy sands creep downward to the Nile. And the air seems subtly changing, and the light perhaps growing a little harder. And you are aware of other regions unlike those you are leaving, more African, more savage, less suave, less like a dreaming. And especially the silence makes a great impression on you. But before you enter this silence, between the amber and ruddy walls that will lead you on to Nubia and to the land of the crocodile, you have a visit to pay. For here, high up on a terrace, is Kom Ombos. And Kom Ombos is the temple of the crocodile god.—Century.

$3,302,821,057 Value Of Foreign Commerce

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Three and a quarter billion dollars was the value of the foreign commerce of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910. The value of imports was one and a half billion dollars and of exports one and three-quarter billion dollars.

The imports were larger than in any preceding year except 1907 and 1908. Government Vessels Tied Up by Damages

HONOLULU, July 15. — The United States Transport Sherman, bound from San Francisco to Manila, is the latest addition to the fleet of crippled government vessels in this harbor. The Sherman arrived here July 12. It developed today that the delay in her departure was due to the port engines having broken down.

Besides the Sherman, there are now in a crippled condition here the cruisers Chattanooga and Cleveland and the collier Prometheus.

CALL SOCIAL CLUB MORAL PITFALL

Residents of Fruitvale Object to Exempting Fairlawn From Liquor License.

"That the innocent little social club of which he is secretary should be characterized as a 'moral pitfall', and a 'lure to young men and women from the path of virtue'" was a course of wonderment to Attorney Alva Udell, when he appeared before the license committee of the City Council last evening to ask that his club be made exempt from the liquor license tax for selling liquors. His organization is known as the Fairlawn Social Club, has four hundred members and meets for social purposes at the Fairlawn hotel at Fruitvale and Bellevue avenues, in the annexed district.

Udell, who does business in San Francisco and lives in Fruitvale, appeared with a petition that the club be allowed to dispense liquors without taking out the regular license. He was grieved to find that a protest had been lodged with the committee, signed by thirty-five residents of the district, asking that the exemption be not granted.

400 THIRSTY MEN.

"All we wish is permission to drink our own wine and beer and whiskey," declared Udell when questioned by the committeemen last night. "The organization is a bona fide social club. Not a drop of liquor is to be sold on the place. Any employe of the club, or director found violating the rule will be thrown out. We have 400 active members and a board of directors."

"Are there 400 thirsty men out where you live?" queried Councilman Ellsworth.

"Some of 'em don't live out there," responded the attorney. "Besides, some of them are women."

"We don't hold that against you," commented Councilman Baccus.

Further inquiry elicited the information that the Fairlawn hotel, which was the scene of a fire some weeks ago, has thirty-six rooms, a large banqueting room, and that Mrs. Serpentine, who conducts the hotel, has about thirty-five steady boarders. Mrs. Serpentine was present and informed the committee that she had every intention of running a respectable place.

"SALOON IN DISGUISE."

The protestants against the exemption declare that the place is intended as a saloon in disguise, and it not only an evasion of the custom that keeps saloons from residence districts, but is an attempt to get around paying the regular license for selling liquor. The protestants give as their reasons for opposing the club the following:

"First, the premises for which the license is asked is situated in a residence district.

"Second, we believe that social clubs where liquors are sold are moral pitfalls and more dangerous to our young men and women than the open saloon, in fact that they are open saloons in disguise."

After hearing Attorney Udell, who is secretary of the club, and Mrs. Serpentine, the committee requested that the roster of the organization be presented with the constitution and by-laws for their inspection. It is hoped to determine the standing of the club and its real purpose by this means. The decision as to the petition and protest was deferred pending this investigation.

RECOMMEND LICENSE.

The bonds having been approved and no protests entered, the following recommendations for licenses were made by the committee to the council:

COUNCILMEN SEEK TO FORCE 'SANE' JULY FOURTH

Rigid Ordinance Drawn Up to Prohibit Sale and Use of Explosives.

LEGISLATORS DIVIDED EVENLY ON QUESTION

Promise of Underwriters to Lower Insurance Rates Is Recalled.

Acting upon the ordinance on fireworks, recently vetoed by Mayor Mott, the ordinance and judiciary committee last night took under consideration a much more rigid law regulating this matter, and finally passed this up to the city attorney to decide upon its legality and formal wording. When the matter comes up in more definite form, a lively contest is anticipated, as about half the council is lined up in favor of the milder form of regulation advocated by the mayor, while the other councilmen are anxious that a prohibitive law be put into effect in favor of a "sane Fourth."

Following the reading of the communication from Mayor Mott last night explaining his refusal to sign the ordinance passed at the last meeting before July 4, Councilman Elliot introduced an ordinance combining some elements of the Berkeley and San Francisco ordinances, and even more rigid than that vetoed by Mott.

ELLIOT DISAPPROVES.

The former ordinance included a section giving Oakland merchants the right to sell fireworks for use outside the city, but this met with Councilman Elliot's disapproval on the ground that it embodied a commercial selfishness which gave the local storekeepers the right to dump a dangerous article on the unfortunate suburbanite. He had this stricken out before introducing it.

Councilman Pendleton adverted to the promise of President Duval of the Fire Underwriters' association, that should such an ordinance be passed, the underwriters would reduce insurance rates in Oakland. He asked that a copy of the proposed ordinance be sent to President Duval, with the request that the assurance of a reduction in rates be given, not verbally, but in writing. The matter was then laid over, with the ordinance referred to City Attorney Stetson to be placed in legal form satisfying all necessary formalities. It will be threshed out later in the council. The ordinance follows:

ORDINANCE REGULATING THE USE AND SALE OF FIREWORKS.

Be It Ordained by the Council of the City of Oakland as follows:

Section 1. No person or persons, firm, company, corporation or association shall, after the passage of this ordinance, fire or discharge any gun, cannon, rifle, pistol, toy pistol or fire arm of any kind, or explode any rocket, cracker, Roman candle, torpedo cane, blank cartridge or other combustible device, or any kind of fireworks by whatever name known, within the city limits of the City of Oakland.

Provided, however, that public displays of fireworks may be given with the joint written consent of the Fire Marshal and Chief of Police.

Sec. 2. No person or persons, firm, company, corporation or association shall, after the passage of this ordinance, sell or offer for sale, any toy pistol, squib, rocket, cracker, Roman candle or fire balloon, or other combustible fireworks, or any article for the making of a pyrotechnic display, within the limits of the City of Oakland.

Sec. 3. Any person or persons, firm, company, corporation or association, who or which shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon the conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the City Jail for a period not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 4. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty days from and after its final passage.

HEADLIGHT TOO BRIGHT.

Councilman Ellsworth explained to the committee that there have been a number of complaints on account of the blinding effect of the high power headlights used by the Oakland Traction Company on electric cars. A request was made to City Electrician George Babcock for information as to what changes could be made in these conditions. He stated that it would be possible to fit the headlight with a screen or shield, to be lowered when the car left the suburban districts and entered the central and better lighted sections of the city. On account of the absence of Attorney Engs of the Oakland Traction Company, on a three weeks vacation, the matter was put over for a conference with him.

MARY MANNERING TO MARRY AGAIN

Divorced Actress to Wed Man Who Is Rated as Grouchy.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Friends of Mary Mannering, former wife of James K. Hackett, are waiting for her to come east to congratulate her personally upon her engagement to Frederick W. Wadsworth, millionaire, of Detroit. Unless Miss Mannering returns east soon, they say, congratulations may have to be extended upon her marriage rather than upon her engagement. That Miss Mannering was to be married again has been a great secret and only a few of her most intimate friends knew it.

Wadsworth's wife was granted a divorce and the custody of their daughter at Kalamazoo last Monday.

The charges brought against Wadsworth was that he was grouchy and morose and frequently humiliated the wife by saying she "did not have the brains of a pinhead."

Miss Mannerings' marital troubles were cleared January 10, when the court granted her a divorce from Hackett.

Miss Mannering is now in Chicago. A dispatch from there quotes her as saying the announcement of her engagement is a "little premature."

PLENTY BABIES IN LOS ANGELES

Births Total 5186, While the Deaths From All Causes Number 4272.

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—Health Officer Powers and other employes of the health department yesterday submitted to the Board of Health their annual reports for the year ending June 30.

In the report it is pointed out that there were 4272 deaths from all causes reported to the health office during the year, giving the death rate of 14.24 per cent per 1000 on an estimated population of 300,000.

The fact that there were 719 more deaths during the last year than there were during the previous year Dr. Powers said may be accounted for by the increase of population by annexation and general growth.

DEATHS FROM SUICIDE.

The report showed 84 deaths from suicide and 86 deaths in children under the age of one year, while there were eleven deaths in children over one year and under two years of age.

The total number of births during the year was 5186 or 779 more births than during the previous year in this city.

Dr. Powers states that of the 581 deaths from tuberculosis 252 were of persons who had lived in Los Angeles less than one year, apparently having come here for climatic benefits. Twenty-seven deaths of tuberculosis occurred in children under the age of two years.

Relative to rabies, Dr. Powers reports there had been but one human case, while there had been ninety-three cases in dogs and eight in horses.

¶ Summer Vacation no Impediment to Business

The large number of sales of high grade pianos made by us during the past two weeks has proven conclusively that notwithstanding July is considered one of, if not the dullest month of the year, that people have the money and will spend it if prices are such as to convince them that it is to their advantage to do so. The results obtained by our sales department make it evident that we have convinced the Piano purchasing public that we were in earnest when we advertised that during the month of July we would sacrifice profit and that our prices are right. Never before have such prices been quoted. No firm could hope to compete with them.

WATER SUIT CAUSE OF CONTROVERSY IN COUNCIL

On Acquiescence to Wish of Attorneys Depends Continuance of Action.

LAWYERS DEMAND EXPERT WITNESSES

Everhart Declares the Dispute Cannot Be Settled in Another Six Years.

That the city has been engaged for six years in suits with the water company for the recovery of a sum approximating $600,000 and had spent about $200,000 in a vain effort to effect a settlement of the question in the courts was the conclusion of councilmen composing the auditing and finance committee last night when considering the recommendation of the employment of additional engineering experts for the prosecution of the cases in the future. Councilman Everhart declared that he did not believe the suits could be settled in another six years and that by that time consumers would have lost their bills and the recovery would be almost futile.

The matter was taken up in connection with a letter from the attorneys employed by the city in carrying on the suits in the United States Circuit Court, asking that two expert engineers be employed to act in conjunction with J. H. Dockweiler to present expert testimony to offset the experts employed by the water company. The coming year will be the occasion of large expense in carrying on the suits and the suggestion of the attorneys that specialists be employed would necessitate an additional expense.

QUESTION OF CONTINUANCE

Upon the decision in this matter will probably depend the final decision as to whether the city shall continue its suits against the company. Councilman Everhart declared it as his conviction that the suits are useless and stated that he was of the same opinion when they were commenced.

Councilman Ellsworth, chairman of the finance committee, brought the matter before the committee and declared that he believed that the experts should be employed on the recommendation of the attorneys, as any other action would mean that the committee was rejecting the recommendation of the expert counsel it had employed in an advisory capacity.

He was answered by Councilman Elliot, who said:

QUESTION OF POLICY

"It would not be right for this committee to throw down our attorneys. But this is a question of policy, a question as to whether we want to spend that much money to stay with the game as to whether what we may gain is worth it. I think the full council should decide so important a matter. But the full data should be presented before a decision is made. I therefore move that the attorneys conducting the cases be asked to furnish an estimate of the cost to the city of carrying on the cases for the year 1911 and also an estimate of the additional cost of employing two more expert engineers to assist Mr. Dockweiler."

His motion was carried and the attorneys for the city, William R. Davis, R. M. Fitzgerald and Carl M. Abbott, will bring in the report at the next meeting of the council.

RECOMMEND ORDINANCE

An ordinance authorizing the Board of Public Works to advertise for bids and award contracts for the construction of storm sewers on Market street between Second and Sixth streets and between Twenty-First and Twenty-Second streets and appropriating $8000 for the work was recommended by the Finance and Auditing Committee to the city council last night.

The request for an appropriation of $1705 for a battery for the police patrol made by Superintendent of Police Wilson to the Auditing and Finance Committee was acceded to by the committee and the recommendation made to the council.

ALBANY LOOKS ON PICTURES KINDLY

Little Town Would See Fight Films, But Donahue Says "Never!"

BERKELEY, July 15.—Interest in the debated fight picture question has been given a fresh start by the announcement that the town trustees of Albany, the municipality adjoining Berkeley on the north, are not averse to allowing the exhibition of the films. It is claimed that the majority of the citizens of the town would favor such an exhibition and the trustees as individuals are said to be in favor of this means of adding revenue to the city treasury.

Promoter Jack Gleason, one of the owners of the picture privileges, possesses a large tract of land in Albany which he originally purchased with the intent of preventing a hold-up if the fight could take place in California. An ordinance of the city allows an athletic club to hold exhibitions on the payment of $300 license and upon application to the trustees for a permit.

Mr. Gleason and his associates through Mr. Al White did apply for such a permit and it was granted. All that is necessary for the promoters to do is to pay the fee and proceed.

District Attorney William H. Donahue, when asked about the situation in Albany, stated that he would take steps to prevent an exhibition of the pictures if such an attempt were made to display them anywhere within the bounds of the county.

Auto Victim Buried In Berkeley Cemetery

The automobile accident of July 2 which occurred near Altamont in which the infant child of C. A. Stacey was killed and the parents severely injured had its closing phase yesterday with the funeral services which were held for the child in Berkeley.

The reason for the delay in the interment followed a desire of the mother to attend. Until yesterday she has been confined at a hospital as a result of the serious injuries she received in the accident. She is now recovering rapidly and her husband is also doing as well as could be expected. Stacey, who is a retired St. Louis wholesale dry goods merchant, is suffering mainly from a broken leg.

PATRIOTIC FRENCH GATHER AT FEAST

Fall of the Bastile Celebrated by Residents of Piedmont Colony.

The stirring strains of the national anthem of France, the "Marseillaise," broke into the usual quietude of Piedmont last night when a number of patriotic members of the French colony gathered at Piedmont Park and celebrated the fall of the Bastile with a banquet, dance and songs.

The wives and children and a number of the men gathered at the park in the afternoon and made merry until the early evening when those who had been detained on account of business began to gather. This was the signal for Shaff, manager of the park club house, to do his part in the day's program, which he did by spreading an elaborate feast for the Frenchmen. A. A. Legar, chairman of the committee on arrangements, presided over the table and acted as toastmaster. In introducing the speakers of the evening he gave a brief resume of the history of the fall of the Bastile and also an account of the events of the Napoleonic wars. Those who responded to toasts were L. Cassost, Dr. George W. Hillgass, J. G. Calou, Peter Colet, T. Hamlin, Joseph LaSalle, E. Belle-Oudry, Peter LaSalle, A. Triveiter and J. Millett. Musical numbers were given by L. Sall and Hamlin, who rendered the "Marseillaise." "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung at the close by P. A. Fontaine.

At the close of the banquet the tables were cleared and with The city orchestra for music dancing was enjoyed until late.

OSGOOD HAS A SCHEME TO GIVE AWAY TO SMOKERS OF HIS CIGARS

Practical Illustration of the Importance and Value of Small Savings---Hundreds of Business Men, Appreciative of the Value of a Dollar. Are Taking Advantage of Cut Rate Cigar Prices.

"Well, I have a new scheme that's a crackerjack," said Fred Osgood, the cut rate cigar-selling druggist, this morning. "I'm going to organize a smokers' home building club of 100 members and out of the money saved by the hundred members build houses for five of them costing $3,500 each or $18,250 in all. This looks like a lot of money, but when you figure it out it comes out O. K.

"In the first place I want to get 100 men to join who smoke [illegible] cigars a day and who will agree to stay with the club for five years. By buying their 12½c cigars at my store for 10c each they will each save 2½c per cigar or 10c a day. This figures $36.50 a year per member or $3650 a year for 100 members. Instead of putting the 10c saved each day in their pockets I will ask them to drop it in a bank and at the end of each month deposit their $3.00 (or whatever more it amounts to) with a treasurer. This means that from the hundred men the treasurer will receive a little over $300 a month. At the end of the first year we will take the money and build a house to be given to any one of the hundred that the club may designate. This will be repeated each year for five years.

"Of course," added Osgood, "it may not work out, but if it could be done think what an easy way it would be to get a home. Few people realize that 10c a day saved by 100 men will buy $[illegible] homes for five of them in five years. [illegible] A man who smokes four or five [illegible] enough by [illegible] a new suit [illegible] every year or enough to take out a thousand dollar life insurance [illegible] his wife [illegible] every month or to the Orpheum [illegible].

"When you figure that it amounts to [illegible] it is astonishing and I am surprised that every man in Oakland [illegible] advantage of my [illegible] of the best [illegible] in all shapes, sizes and colors. My stock is fresh, carefully selected and in a big variety. I sell all standard cigars as Optimus, Belmonts, H. S. Joses, etc., for 10c each, the regular price for a quarter size, and all 5c cigars as Owls, Renowns, Cremo, etc., at 7 for 25c. I also have a 10c cigar called El Cuto which I sell for 5c straight, that is a wonder. In fact, I sell more of them than any other brand. Smokers of nickel cigars say El Cutos is the best for the price they've ever found—long filler, clean, free smoking and beautiful workmanship."

Osgood sells these cigars at cut rate prices at his drug stores, simply as an advertisement. He has two stores, one at 12th and Washington and the other at 7th and Broadway. The cigar departments are right inside the front entrances.

MOVING PICTURES AS IMPROVERS OF MORALS

Ethics and Art Discussed at Meeting With City Council.

SHAKESPEARE'S PLAYS HANDED HARD KNOCKS

Owners of Film Theaters Say They Want to Help Make the Law.

Moving pictures as a means of improving morals in the most modern manner was the subject discussed by a delegation of men from the motion picture theaters of Oakland who were greatly agitated over the new censorship ordinance introduced in the City Council by Councilman T. N. Cobbledick.

In the course of explaining the difficulty of a fair and adequate censorship to the ordinance and judiciary committee of the council last night the moving picture men took up a discussion of ethics and art, declaring that some of Shakespeare's plays were more open to objection on moral grounds than their pictures.

IS TOO SENSATIONAL

Oliver Twist was set down by the theater men as too sensational for moving picture reproduction, while the highly moral Sunday school stories told by the kinematographs were contrasted with such plays as "The [illegible]," "The Devil" and "The Bishop's Carriage," in which the villain is made the center of action and the attractive character.

"I tell you the villain always gets his in the moving pictures," declared D. J. Selb, representative of two local theaters and of the National Amusement company. "The pictures may represent the commission of crime, but the crime is always punished before the end of the film. Virtue is always rewarded and crime meets its penalty in death. The wages of sin are never left out when sin is pictured in our theaters. It is a highly moral law and it teaches a lesson. It is not like some of these plays where the thief or the villain comes out on top. There are worse things in your respectable theaters than in our moving picture show."

ASKS FOR TIME

"All we ask is that we be given time to think this ordinance of yours over so we can [illegible] with you and make suggestions. I can tell you right now that there would be no prize fight pictures, though I got that straight from headquarters.

"This question you are taking up is agitating every city in America and the tendency is to eliminate the smaller censor boards as far as possible."

A national censorship commission to pass on all plays, works of art, books, moving pictures and all forms of entertainment is the ideal the picture men hope to [illegible]. A bill will be presented in the next congress in Washington for the creation of a national censorship board to have full power. This will eliminate this trouble.

That the moving pictures are now censored before they come here was the information given the committee of the council by Guy Smith of the Bell theater. Smith informed the legislators that since May 1 all films have been censored, [illegible] said.

TWO MAIN COMPANIES

"Two companies," he said, "provide films for the United States. These are the Trust and the Independent. Both have headquarters in New York. In New York there is a censorship board such as [illegible] San Francisco is [illegible]. Recently the Independents asked the New York municipal board of censors to pass on all their films. Many of them [illegible] permission to use a stamp bearing the information that the film had been passed upon favorably by the New York board. The Trust has fallen in line and every film made since then for the [illegible] is passed upon by this board."

Councilman Cobbledick was willing that the ordinance should be put over to give the picture men time to bring in formal suggestions, but asked that the main question of the policy involved be taken up. His ordinance met with the general approval. All the members of the committee favored exercising some control, but they were not agreed upon the method or extent of the power to be wielded by the proposed censorship board.

ORDINANCE GOES OVER

"I would be satisfied to have the censors named by a [illegible] of sensible Oakland men," said Councilman [illegible]. Councilman Cobbledick and Baccus shook their heads at this suggestion and [illegible] affirmed: "Well, that would be better than leaving it in the hands of some fellows round the hall here and allowing it to be made into a political weapon."

Councilman Stoffvater expressed his belief in the value of a censorship, as did other members of the committee. The ordinance was laid over to the next meeting of the committee, when the picture men will formally present their side of the question.

COMPANY OFFERS FIVE-YEAR OPTION

ALAMEDA, July 15.—In a letter to Mayor W. H. Noy today President W. S. Tevis of the Bay Cities Water Company stated that the extension of the option offered to the city of Alameda to buy the Bay Cities plant from two years to a period of ten years was considered inadvisable by the board of directors of the company. That the company would extend the option to a period of five years from the date at which the distributing system will be completed and placed in commission if the city of Alameda insists upon the plant is stated by Tevis in his letter.

Police Declare Clever Crook Is in Custody

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—William A. Small, said by the police to be one of the cleverest bogus check operators on the Pacific Coast, was arrested at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon while he was leaving the Canton Bank at 601 Kearney street. A piece of alleged crooked work done by Small about noon at the jewelry store of Shreve & Company is what lead to his apprehension. He called there and bought a $50 gold watch, giving in payment a check for $[illegible]. Receiving the change he left the store with the watch and a few minutes afterwards Shreve & Company learned that the check was bogus.

MEEK'S WIDOW PRESENTS CLAIMS

Recites That the Policies on Which Money Was Borrowed Were in Her Favor.

Claims totaling $72,653 for money borrowed on life insurance and at banks and for a large quantity of stock in corporations and contingent claims on notes totaling $190,44[illegible] were presented against the estate of the late Harry W. Meek by his widow, Harriet W. Meek, today.

Mrs. Meek recites in her claim for money borrowed on life insurance policies that the policies were in her favor, but that with her consent on February 17, 1910, Meek borrowed from the New York Life Insurance Company $1700 and on February 1[illegible] of the same year from the Mutual Life of New York $13,390. She repaid to the Bank of Hayward $20,000, to the Hayward Bank of Savings $1[illegible],000 and to the Union Savings Bank $10,000, she states, and asks to be reimbursed with interest.

Meek with her consent hypothecated 2133 shares of the Suburban Light and Power Company, twelve first mortgage 6 per cent bonds in the same company and 394 shares of stock in the Union Sugar Company, and she asks to be reimbursed for this.

She is joint signer on notes totaling $190,44[illegible] and asks that she be reimbursed for this in case she is called upon to liquidate them, as the money borrowed on them went to her husband. The notes are: Signed by H. W. Meek, Mrs. H. W. Meek, W. F. Meek and Mrs. W. F. Meek to Giles [illegible] Easton, $10,000; signed by H. W. Meek, Mrs. H. W. Meek, W. E. and Carolyn S. THREE-TIME BRIDE, GIRL IS FUGITIVE

Eighteen years of age, yet having been married three times, once without the formality of a divorce, and now being pursued through Mexico by an enraged former husband, is the amazing life story of [illegible] Patton Kinney Ellis [illegible] Hansen, the present wife of a Swedish newspaper collector who threw aside a fortune of several million dollars to wed him. The girl is the foster daughter of F. R. C. Kinney, the millionaire of Claremont.

Before she was fifteen years of age she was married to Joseph L. Ellis at Tracy and Libman of Portland. After living together six weeks the young bride fled and married Charles A. [illegible], a floorwalker. She soon left him and became engaged to Dr. W. F. Blake of Ashland, Or. On the eve of her marriage Ellis appeared on the scene with a warrant for the bride's arrest on a charge of bigamy. This put an end to her marriage with Blake, but soon afterward the girl met Hansen and they were married.

When Ellis heard of this wedding he was in Long Beach. He immediately secured a warrant for her arrest. The young wife is now in Mexico and Ellis announces the intention of capturing her if he has to expend his entire fortune of $[illegible]0,000 in doing so.

HANDS CRACKED AND PEELED

Tried Many Remedies but Grew Worse—Impossible to Do Housework—Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"About six years ago my hands began to crack and peel. I tried many remedies, but they grew worse all the time. At last they became so sore that it was impossible for me to do my housework. If I put my hands in water I was in agony. If I tried to cook, the heat caused intense pain. I consulted a doctor, but without the least satisfaction. After about a year of this suffering I got my first relief when I tried Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. After using them for a week I found to my great delight that my hands were beginning to feel much better, the deep cracks began to heal up and stop running, and in a little while my hands were cured by using only one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I am very thankful to say that I have had no return of the skin disease since. I shall be glad if you will publish this so that others may know of Cuticura. Mrs. Minnie Drew, 23 Danforth St., Jamaica Plain, Mass., Apr. 26, 1910."

For thirty years Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have afforded speedy relief to tens of thousands of skin tortured and disfigured sufferers from eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations and chafings, from infancy to age, bringing comfort and peace to distracted households when all else failed.

Clearance Sale Hints for Saturday Shoppers

LET'S start out with a little story that was told us this week. A lady carefully inspected a Linen Suit that was marked $15.00. Our advertisement of last week announced that all Linen Suits were "one third off." That made the price of this particular garment $10. Elsewhere the lady had seen an adv., "Linen Suits at half price."

Like a sensible shopper she went to see them. On returning to our Suit Department she said: "Your suit for $10 is a better value than a $20 suit reduced to $10 that I have seen elsewhere."

That one incident is characteristic of all our special sales. Our original prices are always right—fair and reasonable.

Never is a regular price raised in this store for the purpose of making a reduction appear greater than it really is.

For example: Tomorrow you will see a display window of Children's up to date, snappy, English "Piccadilly" and other cloth Coats. The sign reads "Entire line of $6.50 Coats, Special $4.85." That's a clear saving of one fourth on new goods.

YOU'LL find a good assortment of beautiful Muslinwear Samples marked one third less than their regular price.

IF you see a trimmed or an untrimmed Hat in the Millinery Section that you want, you will find it marked half price.

THE entire stock of Parasols—and this is only the middle of July—has been liberally price cut.

ON all Leather Goods, Corsets, Notions, Jewelry and Dress Trimmings we allow a flat discount of 10 per cent except on goods already reduced more. Only exception is spool cotton.

THESE are special bargains in bright, new Table Linen, Towels and Bed Spreads.

And so it goes throughout the entire twenty-six departments. Each is making very special offerings so as to clear the way for the new Fall goods that will begin to arrive next month.

WE shall certainly expect a visit tomorrow.

GRAY HAIRS BANISHED.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a sage tea and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy and gradually restored the natural color. One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days on account of it souring quickly. This objection has been overcome [illegible] by asking at almost any first-class drug store for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for scalp and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow. It is sold by all druggists for 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by The Owl Drug Co., 13th and Broadway, 10th and Washington, 16th and San Pablo.

GAS COMPANY NOW READY TO FURNISH 110 VOLTAGE

Representatives So Announce When They Appear Before Council Committee That Is Drawing Up Ordinance

Following improvements in methods of lighting and in the manufacture of tungsten and other incandescent lamps, the Oakland Gas Light and Heat Company last night announced to the City Council through a letter from its vice-president, John A. Britton, that the company is now ready to furnish to all consumers on application [illegible] 110 voltage current in place of the [illegible] expensive [illegible] 20 [illegible] [illegible]

The announcement was made at a conference between representatives of the company and the ordinance and judiciary committee of the Council which has under consideration an ordinance forcing upon the company the [illegible] of the 110 voltage current [illegible] [illegible] every large city in the United States.

TO FORCE DECREASE

[illegible] of the Council is to [illegible] the company to [illegible] the lower and less expensive [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] by the city and [illegible] upon the [illegible] of City Electrician [illegible] Bull, who drew the ordinance [illegible] [illegible] the proposed ordinance City Electrician Bull [illegible] his reasons for disapproving of the 440 [illegible] [illegible]

The Oakland Gas Light and Heat Company is using what is [illegible] the [illegible] 440 volt distributing system, which means that there [illegible] certain conditions [illegible] difference of potential of 440 volts between one [illegible] in the house and the ground [illegible] serious results may arise, [illegible] the loss of life and [illegible] property.

INSURANCE CONDITIONS

Any householder who unknowingly admits such a condition [illegible] in his house [illegible] [illegible] of the conditions of his insurance and [illegible] his insurance [illegible]

The only excuse I can find for using this system of distribution is to save investment for the gas company. The system is very unusual; in fact in no other cities is it used [illegible] except Richmond, Va., [illegible] and those supplied by the corporation owning the local company, is to be found.

A long discussion between members of the Council and George [illegible] Holberton, chief engineer for the company, ensued. Holberton was backed up by Frank A. Leach, Jr., manager of the company here, and Attorney Charles [illegible] Snook in declaring that the company is at present engaged voluntarily in bringing about the reform demanded by the city electrician, but in a manner that would not work a hardship upon the consumer by forcing him to make the change from the high to the low voltage immediately.

CHANGE EXPENSIVE

They said that the change was expensive as it entailed a change in fixtures, [illegible] and should be left to the option of the consumer instead of being forced upon him by law.

This position was fought by Bull [illegible] and by Councilman [illegible] [illegible] Elliott. [illegible]

The 440-volt line is a menace to life. The 110-volt system is more economical and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] better [illegible] the opportunity of using the tungsten light which is of higher quality [illegible] cheaper [illegible] service. The explanation of all this is technical and when the company offers 110 voltage [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] people do not understand. The matter is a matter to be decided by experts, [illegible] [illegible] service agreed upon by such experts would be best for the people.

I believe in [illegible] out [illegible] stuff for the people whether [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] service is the best [illegible] employing experts [illegible] Elliott.

IMPROVING LINES

He was answered by Engineer Holberton, who explained that the company is at present engaged in improving its lines; that the 440-volt lines dangerous to life and property are being speedily removed, and [illegible] Vice-President Britton would address a letter to the Council giving his promise that the 440 lines would be [illegible] [illegible] within six or eight months.

Engineer Holberton said [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the city to [illegible] ordinance [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] 110 voltage is [illegible] [illegible] apparatus such as electric coffee percolators [illegible] curling irons, toasters and other devices that would be useless with the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that the company had made the announcement March [illegible] that 110 current would be furnished to consumers on application and that since that time [illegible] applications [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] decided to make the change [illegible] they understood the expense [illegible]

GRAVE DIFFICULTIES

Attorney Snook then took up the legal aspect of the case. On the admission of the Council that [illegible] elimination of the dangerous 440-volt lines [illegible] [illegible] he warned the members that they [illegible] [illegible] upon grave difficulties in attempting to [illegible] a matter of private business between company and consumer.

In order to investigate the [illegible] aspects of the [illegible] and to [illegible] the matter more thoroughly this phase of the question was referred to the city attorney with the request for an opinion [illegible] [illegible] the meeting.

Back of Our Claims for

NORTH BERKELEY TERRACE

Are Fifteen Years of Successful Subdivision Experience

$5 a Month No Interest

Back of our claims for North Berkeley Terrace are fifteen years of successful subdivision experience—a period marked with unusual success—a period in which we have earned an enviable reputation for integrity and judgment in our transactions.

We have not made a single statement for North Berkeley Terrace that the property itself could not back up.

People visiting the tract found it to be even more than we ever claimed it to be. They found that our predictions for the future of North Berkeley Terrace were not overdrawn or exaggerated. They saw even greater possibilities for this tract as a speculative opportunity than we had—they can readily understand our advice [illegible] [illegible] the assistance of [illegible] [illegible] was needed in consummating a sale.

Right at the Pullman Shops, at San Pablo and Protrero Avenues; on car line; the only hillside property between Berkeley and Richmond; graded streets; cement sidewalks and water mains

North Berkeley Terrace is gently rolling land overlooking the bay. It is the only residential property contiguous to the Pullman shops; it is completely surrounded with high-class homes. On the tract are stores, schools and churches; near by is a park and [illegible] ground [illegible] well [illegible] [illegible] equipped with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

As a residence site North Berkeley Terrace is especially desirable—for successful speculation it is the one real opportunity of the day.

HOW TO REACH THE PROPERTY — Take Oakland Richmond car line direct to our office corner San Pablo and Potrero Avenues.

MANY CHAUFFEURS FAIL BEFORE EXAMINERS

One-fifth of New York's Drivers Are Expected to Be Disqualified.

SONS OF RICH MEN SUCCESSFUL IN TEST

Show They Know More About Autos Than Many of the Men They Hire.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The confidential clerk to Secretary of State Koenig who is conducting an examination of chauffeurs in this city under the provisions of New York state's new automobile law believes that the examination will have disqualified nearly one-fifth of the city's motor car drivers by the time the last test is held just before August 1. After that date the examinations will be far more severe. Of the 500 of New York's 5,000 hired chauffeurs who took the examination yesterday 15 per cent failed to pass.

USE OWN LANGUAGE

There were many men in yesterday's examination who could scarcely read the questions and who had to write their answers in their native tongue. French, Italian, German and Spanish chauffeurs imported by globe trotting New Yorkers had the State Department's interpreters explain the questions to them and then they wrote their answers in their own language. These papers all made a high mark.

George Robertson, the driver of racing cars, got 100 per cent. A few rich men's sons took the examination as a stunt. Results from their papers show they know more about automobiles than do their chauffeurs.

EARNINGS GOOD

Secretary Koenig's clerk has collected some interesting statistics about chauffeurs. Most of them he says are between 25 and 35 years of age and have picked up their trade by observation from the street and by hanging around garages.

Chauffeurs' wages vary immensely, but on the whole they make more than any [illegible] workers who serve only a short apprenticeship except waiters. The majority of them earn from $40 to $60 a week, mostly tips.

TAFT TO REVIEW FLEET, AS CHIEF

President Will Be Saluted by Fifteen Warships Off Provincetown.

BEVERLY, Mass., July 15.—President Taft will have his first view of the Atlantic battleship fleet as commander-in-chief of the navy of the United States on August 1 off Provincetown, Mass. Fifteen warships will be there and the President will review them from the bridge of the yacht Mayflower.

Further details of the President's cruise to Maine waters beginning next Monday were announced yesterday. The president will be at Bristol the afternoon and evening of July 19. On the 20th the Mayflower will drop anchor at [illegible] where the President will remain there until the afternoon of the 23d when he will sail for Ellsworth to spend the night as the guest of Senator Hale of Maine.

The next day the President will go to Islesboro and will cruise in and around Casco bay until the 27th when there will be a stop at Biddeford Pool.

Laborers Charged By Angry Strikers

NEW YORK, July 15.—The arrival yesterday of a steam lighter bearing two hundred laborers at the piers of the American Sugar company's refinery in Williamsburg, where a strike is in progress, was the signal for a fight. A crowd of 100 or more men who had learned of the boat's arrival charged toward the pier.

The reserve police interposed and when the men began hurling bricks and stones the policemen used their clubs and dispersed the mob.

Use TIZ— Smaller Feet

Sore Feet, Tender Feet and Swollen Feet Cured Every Time. TIZ Makes Sore Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them

Everyone who is troubled with sore sweaty or tender feet—swollen feet—smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions can quickly make their feet well now. Here is instant relief and a lasting permanent remedy—it's called TIZ. TIZ makes sore feet well and swollen feet are quickly reduced to their natural size. Thousands of ladies have been able to wear shoes a full size smaller with perfect comfort.

It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. JAPAN MUST SEEK BRIGHTER FIELDS

Laborers, Hampered by Agreement With America, Turn Toward Peru.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The darkest [illegible] fields for Nippon laborers are shown in a remarkable report which the State Department has [illegible] on the condition of Japanese emigrants abroad. Since the strict enforcement of the Japanese-American agreement the Oriental emigration companies have suffered [illegible] and several have disorganized.

Of [illegible] Japanese who have gone to the Philippines at their own expense or were sent there by emigration companies about 600 now remain [illegible] the Japanese settlement. As the Philippines constitute a part of the United States no [illegible] laborers are admitted. In Hawaii the trouble between the planters and laborers has been so [illegible] that only 10% Japanese went there during 1909.

PERU HOPEFUL

Peru is [illegible] as the most hopeful field since the prohibition of immigration to America. New Caledonia [illegible] anti-Japanese agitation [illegible] situation in [illegible] Canada.

Mexico has no great demand for labor [illegible] there are stated to be less than [illegible] Japanese there now. Thursday Island [illegible] famous for pearls has now only [illegible] Japanese there. There are 290 Japanese laborers in the Oceanic Island and the Toyo Emigration company last year sent laborers to Tahiti.

Capitalist's Daughter To Seek Separation?

SANTA BARBARA, July 15.—Rumors that Mrs. Frank Duff Frazier would bring suit for divorce have been current in the Montecito colony for some days but as yet not confirmed. The topic is one that Mrs. Frazier does not care to discuss and her friends declare that if the suit is brought it will be because there is no alternative for the peace of the household.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazier arrived here early last winter and had apartments at the Potter for some weeks, being visited later by Mrs. Frazier's father, F. F. Peabody, the New York millionaire, a member of the firm of Peabody, Cluett & Co.

GAME WAS OLD, BUT IT WORKED

Unsophisticated Farmer Meets Stranger on Train; $3500 Is His Loss.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 15.—David Dennis, a farmer of Moravia, yesterday informed District Attorney Burritt that he was buncoed out of $3500 last week. Dennis was coming to Auburn last Wednesday when he met a stranger on a Lehigh train who asked if he knew of any abandoned farms for sale hereabouts. The farmer at once offered his own, and after several days negotiations came to Auburn on a [illegible] of $3500. He drew the money from the Auburn Savings Bank and with the man who said he was M. Keiter of Cortland counted the money.

[illegible] to keep private the transaction [illegible] at Soule cemetery at a point [illegible] the grave of Chester Gillette, each placing his money in a metal box. "You had better go to some quiet place and open the box. Make no noise, because [illegible] will laugh and some [illegible] blackmail you."

Dennis found a four pound stone in the box.

BALTIMORE, July 15.—The United States Government Meteorological Observatory at Cheltenham was badly damaged and valuable instruments ruined by a freak bolt of lightning which struck during a terrific storm late yesterday. Eight sheep were killed a quarter of a mile from the observatory and an electric car miles away was put out of commission by the same bolt. The observatory was shattered without being burned. The sheep were killed and their bodies found piled on top of each other as if someone had placed them in that position. The observatory is about twenty miles from Washington.

Policewomen's Clubs Out for Mashers on Baltimore Streets

BALTIMORE.—Discretion is to be the essential qualification of the women assistant cops the Women's Suffrage Club is trying to have appointed to stop flirting on the streets. There is no suggestion as to age or present or previous state of marital servitude, but the discretion that Mrs. Emma Maddox Funck, president of the club, would require is really a high order of Sherlock Holmes sagacity, says Mrs. Funck.

These assistants will watch out for cases of flirtation. They will observe closely the manner of every man and woman who passes them, and if they see anything not quite usual they will insist that the men or women go home at once.

"But do you think folk will go home just because they are told to?" Mrs. Funck was asked.

"Well, in cases of that sort the assistants will appeal to the policemen to make the order stronger, and when the occasion seems to demand more severe treatment policemen can arrest the offender," Mrs. Funck replied. "I would not suggest, however, that many arrests be made at first. To send the offenders home and give them a chance to improve would be wiser.

"No young people should be out on the streets after 10 o'clock unless, of course, in cases of necessity, and the assistant officer could determine that. All persons over [illegible] years old will be liable to reprimand or may be arrested if the plans for our women assistant police are carried through.

"And don't forget that an older man or woman has much greater reason to be [illegible] than have [illegible].

"The older the person the greater the sense of right and wrong, or the fitness of things he or she should have. I would even suggest that the [illegible] offend the greater the punishment."

The members of the club say that they will have squads of women police patrol the downtown sections of the city and the resorts for some time before they attempt arrests. When the time comes, however, the crusade will be vigorous and the offenders will be severely punished if the women have their way.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward Does Charity Work

Most of the [illegible] and much of the money [illegible] have been devoted by Mrs. Humphrey Ward to philanthropic work. Her famous novel has [illegible] many [illegible] schemes for the relief of the poor, and some years ago she founded a University Settlement for university men and others who could combine [illegible] other studies with personal attention to the welfare of the poor districts round it. Although she is now one of the most widely read of living British novelists, Mrs. Humphrey Ward was nearly 36 when her first book was published. It was "Robert Elsmere," which captivated Mr. Gladstone, who made it a great [illegible] either by writing [illegible].—Tit-Bits.

Woman Is Sole Boss of Thriving Little City

KINGSVILLE, Texas.—The town of Kingsville was born on the Fourth of July six years ago. Its story since that time is a remarkable one of new town building.

Mrs. H. M. King is the good and generous patroness of Kingsville. She is the richest [illegible] woman in the world, her [illegible] holdings amounting to 1,280,000 [illegible]. This great ranch surrounds the town. Before Kingsville was born it was forty miles from the ranch home of Mrs. King to the nearest railroad point. It was chiefly through her encouragement and support that the railroad was built through the heart of her great property, and it has made possible for her the building of a new town within a short distance of her country home.

She donated [illegible] acres of land in the center of her big tract for the purpose of locating a town. In addition to this she made a gift of many other thousands of acres in aid of the railroad project. In [illegible] to encourage the settlement and development of the territory through [illegible] around the town she divided a part of her original ranch into farms and sold them to the new settlers.

While Mrs. King has not [illegible] the control of the town property she has exercised a jurisdiction over it in several important respects through stipulations in the title deeds. For one thing she has required from the beginning of the town's growth that it shall be a prohibition community in the strictest sense. The deed to every lot and piece of property stipulates that no intoxicating liquor shall be sold upon the premises.

Mrs. King's prohibition ideas and their rigid enforcement in the town are something of a novelty to this part of Texas, which is overwhelmingly anti-prohibition in sentiment.

Next to her desire that the citizens of the town should be of temperate and law-abiding habits it is Mrs. King's chief purpose to provide the best possible educational facilities for the children. Not long ago she donated $30,000 for the erection of a handsome school building. She is a liberal contributor to the various churches and religious societies of the place, and no worthy object of charity goes by her unnoticed.

[illegible] to meet in executive [illegible] of the problem.

[illegible] was long and earnest [illegible] at the conclusion that Mrs. Johnson having [illegible] of age [illegible] would marry with [illegible] consent, and the superintendent [illegible] bestow a blessing on the pair.

[illegible] were about to communicate their decision to Mrs. Johnson when [illegible] that she already had [illegible] belongings and [illegible]. Evidently she hadn't proposed taking any chance of an adverse finding by the guardians of the home, who submitted with the best grace possible.

The ceremony was performed by County Judge Leckbow while the board was having its weighty conference.

The principals give their ages as over [illegible] which caused Mr. Reilly, who is now [illegible] years old, to chaff [illegible]. They have gone to live at [illegible].

Roosevelts to Have Expensive Furnishings

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt will have none but the most expensive household linen for their home [illegible] with the gift of Mrs. Alexander [illegible] of Mrs. Roosevelt [illegible] dozens of table cloths [illegible]. Some [illegible] embroidered [illegible] $1.00 each [illegible] damask cloths [illegible] breakfast and supper linens [illegible] apiece [illegible]. The bed linen is quite beautiful [illegible] sheets and pillows of snowy sheets of sheer Irish linen woven and embroidered in France, to which the bride's monogram was added in this country. Some of the sheets have a scalloped edge with a sort of embroidered beading about two inches below, while others show a vine edge with a [illegible] border underneath. The pillow slips match, and are all embroidered with the bride's monogram. The blankets are fleecy and white and have [illegible] a bit of color on them, being [illegible] embroidered in white silk with the bride's initials. The down-filled coverlets are covered with white silk and bear the same monogram.

Hubby Nagged 29 Years

DENVER, [illegible] unable to put up with [illegible] said Mrs. [illegible] Althof [illegible] from William Althof and has brought suit for divorce in the district court. At the same time she [illegible] her husband arrested and placed under a $2,000 bond to prevent him from leaving the State. She has suffered, she declares, for more than twenty-eight years, because of her husband's constant complaints against expenditures for household necessities, and [illegible] been humiliated, she alleges, times without number by her husband's [illegible] servants for extravagance.

Mrs. Althof alleges her husband began faultfinding within a year after their marriage in Freeport, Ill., October 19, 1881. She alleges that [illegible] to her [illegible] weeks and even months at a time Althoff used to [illegible] talk to his wife, she says, and then when he did address her it was to charge her with wastefulness.

CUPID WAS FOUND IN PACKAGE OF TOBACCO

J., inclosed in a package of smoking tobacco, with a note asking the finder to write. Harper, who is an elderly bachelor, intends to comply with the request.

Following their honeymoon the young couple will reside in Philadelphia, where the husband has extensive interests and where the bride also has many friends.

A large number of society leaders attended the wedding, which took place in the home of the bride's parents in the Windy City. Much thought of by the younger set, Mrs. Cavanaugh will be greatly missed in her former home.

Engagement of Miss Edith Deacon Wins Congratulations

Fiance Is Not Known in Social Circles, But Well Liked

NEW YORK.—There is great interest in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Edith Deacon, one of the most popular and [illegible] members of the cottage settlement, to [illegible] Peabody of Boston.

The formal announcement was made by Mrs. Charles H. Baldwin [illegible] Miss Deacon, but [illegible] the young couple [illegible] visiting in Boston [illegible] Newport soon [illegible] of their friends [illegible] arranged for their [illegible].

Miss Deacon is the [illegible] of the late Edward Parker Deacon.

Young Peabody has not distinguished himself in any [illegible] society [illegible].

Miss Deacon was introduced to society three years ago in Newport by Mrs. Baldwin, who gave a [illegible] commemorating [illegible] officers of the Atlantic fleet [illegible] Newport in command of Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, who was [illegible] of Mrs. Baldwin's husband [illegible].

Childhood Lovers Wed After 30 Years

BURLINGTON, [illegible].—A romance which began thirty years ago and was [illegible] culminated in the marriage of Miss Mary M. Wooding to James P. Bu[illegible] of [illegible], Cal.

Thirty years ago [illegible] and Miss Wooding were [illegible] in Burlington. They were first cousins and engaged at 17. Bu[illegible] decided to try his fortunes in California and [illegible] sweetheart [illegible]. This he did and [illegible] wrote to Miss Wooding asking her if she would come to him. She [illegible] that she would as soon as he was ready for her.

The letter never reached [illegible]. He wrote several months [illegible].

The other day [illegible] in Burlington [illegible] accident [illegible] recognized each other. They were married and left immediately for California.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

A little while ago a London clergyman denounced from his pulpit the modern woman who uses [illegible] cookery and [illegible] housekeeping, the many devices for time and trouble saving now on the market. [illegible] It was, in fact, exceedingly [illegible]. This is perhaps the silliest quarrel with women which has recently been voiced. If a woman is to spend hours cleaning her jelly with egg shells so that her smallest teacup [illegible] a matter for a week's work, [illegible] reason why one should not go on and say that she is [illegible] her responsibility by not weaving her own materials [illegible] her own lace and so forth. One might also pertinently ask why even a clergyman should live in a ready-made house; why does he not build it himself?

Many society women who have estates in the suburbs of Philadelphia have taken up the culture of bees. They take pride in serving on their own tables honey that comes from the hives on the estate. They make a point to cultivate flowers of which bees specially are fond and from which they can gather [illegible] to carry to their honeycombs. Furthermore, many women have attended lectures on bee raising in the past winter and several women have earned excellent incomes by lecturing or giving private instruction on the care and management of bees. The first thing usually taught the would-be apiarist is not to be afraid. Bees won't sting an experienced apiarist unless you annoy them by becoming frightened yourself and making a disturbance that vexes them. They are peaceful and industrious.

Fortune Hunter Trails Indian Girl Landowner

KANSAS CITY.—Leslie [illegible] Lyons, United States district attorney, has been called upon to protect Archie Langford, a Cherokee Indian girl 17 years old, from an American fortune hunter who wants to marry her. She will have a share of the lands of the Cherokee nation. She is at present in the general hospital, but is convalescent and will be discharged soon. While in the hospital she was protected from the fortune hunter by the hospital authorities.

Archie was married to a Cherokee Indian two years ago. Soon after the wedding he became a fugitive from justice and she has not seen him since. Her life in Oklahoma was lonely, so a month ago she decided to see the world. She had her long black hair cut and dressed in men's clothing. Then she went to Fort Smith, Ark., from where she went to Leavenworth, Kan., and finally came to Kansas City.

In Leavenworth she met a woman who said her name was Miss White. Archie told this woman that she was of Cherokee [illegible] acres of [illegible] she would [illegible] Miss White [illegible] in Kansas City who was looking for a bride with a quarter section of land [illegible] she took Archie to this friend and introduced her. This [illegible] turned out to be the fortune hunter.

While the man was [illegible] to ask Archie to marry him, the police arrest him on a charge of vagrancy. Archie was taken to the Helping Hand Institute, where she told Mrs. [illegible] Ingham [illegible] that she had no desire to marry the white man.

While in the Helping Hand an attempt was made to kidnap her. The kidnapers were driven away. The next day Archie was taken to the hospital. Letters proposing marriage have been received by her there.

If the district attorney finds that he has no jurisdiction in the case, Archie will be taken before [illegible] E. Porter, judge of the juvenile court, and made a ward of the court.

Divorce Evil Works Harm

ATLANTA.—Greatly perturbed over the remarkable increase in the number of uncontested divorce cases brought before him, Judge W. D. Ellis announced that he would go before the Judiciary Committee of the Legislature and make personal appeal for a drastic law which will check the divorce tendency.

Speaking in his court he said of divorce:

"It is destroying the home, and when [illegible] the State [illegible] divorce should [illegible] party [illegible] divorce [illegible] marrying again and getting a new victim.

"The evil is growing [illegible]. We talk about [illegible] anything worse than [illegible]. We expect vice in the [illegible] virtuous young people [illegible] expect them to [illegible] children."

Pays Bill After 46 Years

NEW YORK.—Mrs. Clara L. Searles of No. 72 East Jersey street, Elizabeth, N. J., was living in Mansfield, O., forty-six years ago. She was a widow with one son, without much money. She bought $5 worth of goods at a store there and said she would pay for them when she could. This was agreed to by Black Bros., the proprietors.

A few days ago Mrs. Searles sent the firm a letter inclosing the $5, which read in part:

"I could have sent this money some years ago, but I felt that I should also send the interest. My son has since died and now I find that I am only able to pay the principal. I hope that some day I may be able to pay the interest. I am now 76 years of age and realize that I have not much longer to live, but I don't want to die with any debts unpaid."

She received a receipted bill for her money yesterday. Nothing was said about the interest. It was only by the dint of hard work that she was able to save the $5.

On a table nearby were several letters. They were addressed to his brother, father and a young woman from whom he had just learned that she did not [illegible] to marry him.

The girl is Josephine [illegible], 18 years old, whom he met two weeks ago. She lives with her parents at No. 170 West Fifty-fourth street and attends a commercial school [illegible] Tenth [illegible] left for her [illegible].

ACQUITTED BY ARMY COURT; CHARGED AGAIN

Captain Lyon Found Not Guilty; Findings Disapproved of by Commander.

ACCUSED OF KNOWING SURPLUS EXISTED

Soldier Made An Endeavor to Cover Up Irregularities, Says Reviewer.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Captain Samuel D. Lyon of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, United States Army, recently tried at Fort Meyer, Va., for irregularities growing out of the Brownsville, Texas, matter, was found not guilty and honorably acquitted by the court. General Walter Howe, commander of the department of the East, however, acting as reviewing authority, passed on the case today and disapproved the finding of the court.

The papers in the case embodying the verdict of the court were submitted to General Howe several days ago. In passing on the matter today General Howe said:

"In the foregoing case of Captain Samuel D. Lyon, Twenty-fifth Infantry, quite a portion of the record is in regard to a matter of no importance in this case and not material to the issue before the court.

TOO GREAT SURPLUS

"The evidence clearly shows that Captain Lyon first received the ball cartridges in question in April 1906, and that in August of that year he had not only 3000 rounds (in three original packages) as reported on his ordnance returns for the period ending June 30, 1906, but also approximately twenty rounds per man in the hands of the men of his company.

"From the evidence the only reasonable and probable explanation of the apparent surplus was that too many rounds had been dropped as expended June 30, 1906. This surplus was covered by firing surplus [illegible] during the month of October [illegible] period ending December [illegible] 1906, and by taking up [illegible] still [illegible].

KNOWN TO LYONS

"The reviewing authority has no doubt from the evidence that the exact condition of his ammunition was known to Captain Lyon, especially his inspection following the Brownsville affair.

"As the question of ammunition entered so largely into all the subsequent investigations there is no reason why he was unable before the court of inquiry to give exact and full information thereof except his desire to cover up the error in his returns and certificates.

"From the above it is evident that the accused should not have been honorably acquitted and the same is disapproved."

Quarrel With Oakland Man Cause of Attempted Suicide?

MISS MARY WILKIE, who was rescued from the waters of Lake Tahoe.

Despite the efforts of the girl's family to suppress the impression that Miss Mary Wilkie, who [illegible] Tuesday was the victim of an accident, persistent rumor [illegible] the statements of several residents of the summer resort declare that the girl made a deliberate attempt at suicide as the result of a quarrel with Arthur P. Mitchell, a real estate man of Oakland.

The family of Mitchell [illegible] Miss Wilkie and that [illegible]. Dispatches from the summer resort state that Mitchell and Miss Wilkie were seen [illegible] boating and automobiling together. A letter written to Frank P. Wilkie, vice-president of the Andrew Wilkie Company, from his San Francisco, states that the daughter fell from the wharf while accompanying a pleasure party on a short excursion and was rescued by Captain J. Hotchkiss of the launch Aileen.

Other persons found at Lake Tahoe, however, said there was no doubt that Miss Wilkie had attempted to drown herself after quarreling with Mitchell. Miss Wilkie's sister, Isabelle Wilkie, was present at the time these persons said and [illegible] when she saw Mary leap into the water.

Mitchell could not be found after the girl was taken from the lake. It was learned that although her father had searched everywhere for him [illegible] Mitchell [illegible] member of the firm of Wiss & Mitchell, realty dealers with offices at [illegible].

He made a formal statement [illegible] what occurred at Tahoe to his [illegible] but bound himself to secrecy.

Mitchell immediately left his home in Oakland after breakfast and came to San Francisco to call upon Frank P. Wilkie, father of the young woman and vice-president of the Andrew Wilkie Company in the San Francisco National Bank building. Mitchell and Wilkie were closeted in the latter's private office for a long time and at noon were still in conference and refused to make a statement.

AUTOMATIC HORN AS TATTLE TALE

Councilman Recommends a Device by Means of Which Speeders May Be Caught.

A new device for curbing the festive speed fiend was recommended by Councilman [illegible] last night [illegible] the rules of the [illegible] Councilman Mott came up before the ordinance and judiciary committee.

"Let's make it a provision requiring that every automobile shall carry a horn that will blow automatically when a certain speed is exceeded and will thus warn the policeman to arrest the driver. Then we will have them without a doubt."

His suggestion did not meet with general approval and was dropped. Argument ensued as to the age limit for boys to drive automobiles, the contention being that 14 years was too young for a chauffeur. It was pointed out that the [illegible] objected to would raise the age at which a boy could [illegible]. If it was changed [illegible] and the ordinance was recommended for final passage as it stood.

BLAMES RICH WOMAN FOR WRECK OF LIFE

Aged Man Threatens to Commit Suicide if Law Fails to Give Him Redress.

VICTIM OF RAGE AND JEALOUSY IS CHARGE

Martin Schwenk Tells a Weird Tale of Shattered Hopes to Prosecuting Attorney.

"Without redress I do not care to live. I want to know if I must commit suicide."

With this pathetic demand, Martin Schwenk, an aged German mechanic living at 60 Tenth street, sought the office of Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Hennessey yesterday afternoon. In stumbling phrases half [illegible] half German he attempted to tell his story to the attorney, but failing to make himself perfectly understood he departed in search of an interpreter.

MAY COMMIT SUICIDE

It is thought by the officials that he is troubled by an hallucination that he is being persecuted, but so strong is his belief that criminal wrong has been done him that he declared again and again that if the courts fail him in his hour of need he will take his own life. He at first sought Judge Ogden but was referred by the jurist to the prosecuting attorney.

That his life has been wrecked and all his hopes turned to tragic failure through the machinations of a woman is the declaration of Schwenk in his fight to gain redress. He declares that for almost a score of years he has been persecuted and wronged and he places a pathetic faith in the power of the law to bring him aid.

MISFORTUNE ARRIVES

Eighteen years ago the now white haired and crippled wreck who called on the prosecuting attorney yesterday was a stalwart German mechanic working in a factory in San Francisco in which brass fixtures were made. He was an expert at his trade and had been able to accumulate a small savings account and some property. It was when he was in high hopes of building his fortune he [illegible] had just gained his naturalization papers that misfortune fell upon him.

Whether his story from this point is the weird dream of one whose mental life has lost its equilibrium through misfortune, or is based upon some strange sequence of acts is difficult to tell. Intermingled [illegible] with his story of actual persecution [illegible] mysterious [illegible] hypnotic influences, telepathy and the evil eye.

BLAMES RICH WOMAN

The source of all his woes he believes to be a woman rich and handsome, a woman whose name he does not care to speak until the matter is brought into court. While he was at work at the factory in San Francisco one day, he says, the woman entered the place. She owned a large interest in the concern and had visited it before. Struck with her beauty he fixed his eyes upon her. He says that some strange message flashed between him and the woman of wealth.

Angered by the feeling that she had lowered herself and recognizing in him a workingman far beneath her in social station, Schwenk believes that she turned upon him the vials of her wrath and sought to work his undoing in revenge for her momentary humiliation at his hands.

CRIPPLED FOR LIFE

"I have never known a peaceful day for eighteen years," declares Schwenk. "By her orders I was forced to do the most dangerous work about the shop and it was but a short time before I was crippled by having a brass disk rolled over my left ankle, injuring the bone. After being in the hospital six months another attack was made upon me at the instance of the woman, this time crippling me for life.

"I have been seeking redress every year since then, but without avail. This woman has an evil influence over my life and communicates with me by means of telepathy, telling me that I will never regain my health and that I cannot bring her to justice. I can prove that she is responsible for my injury and then I can collect damages and get expert medical care to bring me back to health again. I am without much money, and if I cannot obtain justice, I have no wish to live and will commit suicide."

It is probable that a watch will be kept by the police on the old man to prevent him from doing himself an injury.

Chemists' President Victim of Burglars

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Professor W. D. Bancroft of Cornell University, one of the leading chemists of the world and president of the American Chemical Society, which is now gathered in [illegible] days' session in this city, has had several exciting experiences in this section of the country during his visit here.

Professor Bancroft's experience began with the wreck at Salinas, in which he figured as a passenger on the Southern Pacific train which was derailed Tuesday morning, causing the death of the engineer and fireman and the injury of a score of persons. Wednesday night his room at the St. Francis hotel was entered by a burglar and his watch and pocketbook containing several hundred dollars in drafts and his return ticket to New York were stolen.

The chemist takes his loss philosophically as he did the train wreck. He says he would like to recover his watch and has stopped payment on the drafts.

SUFFRAGETTES MARCH ON CHICAGO WITH AUTO AND CHIEF OF POLICE PERMIT

Justice of Peace, Woman Doctor, Four Vassar Girls and Two Men Preach Gospel of Votes for Women

CHICAGO, July 15.—Chicago suffragettes yesterday began to follow the methods of their London sisters and inaugurated a vigorous campaign on the streets in favor of votes for women.

The first campaigners were a woman justice of the peace, a woman doctor, four Vassar girls and two men, equipped with an automobile, a permit from the chief of police, yellow hand bills and a contempt for rain. They preached the gospel of equal suffrage for the first time on the street in downtown Chicago.

The women pleaded for equal rights with the men with a fervor that held some of the men standing in the rain for the better part of an hour and drew an occasional applause.

Miss Mock was finishing her education at a fashionable Bryn Mawr school. She left Bryn Mawr in an automobile with her future husband May 10, supposedly for a short drive, but they went to New York and were married. De Bobula is about twice as old as his handsome young wife.

AURORA, Ill., July 15.—A woman's way of saying "Good-bye" lost an audience of 1000 workers yesterday at Elgin, Ill., when Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout and her suffragists delegation missed their chance to talk to employes of an Elgin company. The party [illegible] lingering late induced the last 200 to listen to them.

When the women, visiting at the residence of Mrs. A. H. Lowrie, heard the town bell ring five they recollected suddenly that they were due to address the employes three blocks away. Five minutes were lost in effecting a getaway.

EBENEZERDYER CALLED BY DEATH AT AGE OF 88

Father of Beet Sugar Industry in the West Dies After Long Illness.

DEMISE MARKS PASSING OF CALIFORNIA PIONEER

Funeral to Be Held Under the Auspices of Odd Fellows' Lodge.

Ebenezer Herrick Dyer, known throughout the West as the father of the beet sugar industry, died at his Alvarado estate at 1:40 o'clock this morning after an illness which confined him to his bed for the last three weeks. Dyer was 88 years old. He began sinking yesterday afternoon, and at the time of his death his wife, Olive, and three of the six children, Abilia M., Nina J. and Edward F., were at his bedside.

The efforts of the attending physician, Dr. H. P. Morrison of Niles, and two trained nurses were unavailing to prolong the aged man's life. His last moments were very peaceful. Death resulted from old age and enfeebled health.

CHILDREN NOTIFIED.

The other three children, Hugh T., Guy S. and L. P. Dyer, who are at present out of the city, were notified of the death of their father and they are expected to arrive before the funeral services, which will be held Sunday afternoon from the Alvarado home.

The services, which will be held at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the Crusade Lodge No. 133, I. O. O. F., will be open to the friends as well as relatives of the dead man. The interment will take place at Cypress cemetery.

The passing of Dyer marks the loss of another of the pioneers of this state. He belonged to the old school who went West and left great accomplishments as monuments to the fact that they had answered the call.

MICE CAUSE FIRE; WOMAN IS BURNED

Little Animals Eat Matches and Start Blaze in Berkeley Home.

ALAMEDA, July 15.—With her hair in flames from an attempt to extinguish a fire that broke out in the basement of the J. A. Durkee home at 1152 Regent street at 9 o'clock this morning, Mrs. R. A. Gowdy, who is occupying the house during the absence of the owner, narrowly escaped being burning to death and was only saved by the prompt action of neighbors who, aroused by her frantic cries for help, rushed to her assistance and extinguished the flames that were almost smothering her.

Making a heroic attempt to save a large amount of furniture stored in the basement, Mrs. Gowdy, with buckets of water and heavy rugs, made a vain effort to put out the fire and only emerged from the cellar when her hair and clothing had caught fire.

Mice playing in matches are supposed to have caused the fire. J. A. Durkee is a furniture dealer and had considerable stock in the basement where the fire broke out. It was damaged to the extent of about $100.

An alarm turned in from box 39 called the fire department to the scene, where the fire fighters worked for more than an hour. The [illegible] engine, the chemical and the hook and ladder responded.

LEONA HEIGHTS VICTIM RECOVERS

Mrs. A. Frick Says Location in Ill-fated Car Saved Her From Death.

ALAMEDA, July 15.—Mrs. A. Frick is recovering from her injuries received in the Leona Heights car collision Memorial Day and is now able to be out.

Mrs. Frick with her husband and children and several Eastern friends were on their way to Leona Heights for a day's outing when the accident occurred. Seated in the middle of the eastbound car when the westbound car crashed into it they were hurled into a mass of debris and badly scratched and bruised. Mrs. Frick thought that her leg had been broken but was able to walk to another car on which she was removed to her home in this city at 1827 Alameda avenue. Although it was at first thought that the bone of her leg would have to be scraped, her physician later found that the injury would heal without this painful operation. Mrs. Frick has been confined to her home since the accident and was up and about for the first time this week.

That the members of her party would have suffered more serious injuries if they had not been seated in the middle of the car is the belief of Mrs. Frick.

her interests. His descent can be traced back through a long line of early New England settlers who figured conspicuously in the history of the country. After engaging in business at Baltimore he later got the fever and came to California in 18[illegible] along with a large number of other New Englanders. He returned the following year and after marrying Miss W. Ingals of his home town returned to his state and settled at Alvarado with his brother.

He soon began to mix in politics and after serving two terms as county surveyor he received an appointment during the administration of Lincoln as United States surveyor. He served twelve years in this capacity and in that time familiarized him[self] with all of the Western country and he was not slow to foresee its possibilities. He made a number of investments in land which later proved very profitable. In these deals he was associated at times with former Governor Stanford and D. O. Mills.

In the latter part of the [illegible] Dyer began to be impressed with the possibilities of the beet sugar industry, and after a few preliminary surveys of the field he jumped into the venture and established the first beet sugar refinery on the Pacific coast. COLLEGE LAD IS GIVEN FREEDOM

Young Wilming Is Released From Charge of Larceny After Investigation.

BERKELEY, July 15.—Otto A. Wilming, the 19-year-old student at the summer session of the university who was arrested in Oakland on the charge of stealing carpenter's tools in Berkeley and was brought to this city for arraignment, was released yesterday afternoon by Chief Volmer after a careful examination of his story of hunger and temptation.

It is alleged that the lad admitted his guilt to an Oakland detective, claiming that hunger drove him to it. Wilming came here from Ukiah, Mendocino county, to make up a deficiency in physics after his graduation from the Willits high school preparatory to entering the university this fall. He had $60 in his possession when he left home but this soon melted away before he had paid his board for the period he was to remain here. He had a room at the Terminus Hotel, corner of University and Shattuck avenues.

While Wilming was being examined at the Berkeley station, Professor F. L. Tuck of the Willits high school, who lives temporarily at 2614 Dwight way, told Chief Volmer that he knew the lad well. He stated that he had always had an excellent reputation as an honest, trustworthy boy, and he would see that Wilming had enough money to carry him through the remainder of the summer session.

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—William Brown of St. Johns, Newfoundland, arrived here yesterday in a cart drawn by four dogs, claiming that his arrival here completes a 25,000 mile journey in his unusual vehicle, thereby winning a wager of $10,000.

As a result of a discussion among members of the National Sporting Club of Newfoundland, Brown says the money was put up in 1906 to be paid to him provided that, after leaving St. Johns without money, he traveled a distance equal to the circumference of the earth within a time limit of seven years. After traveling through the Eastern States he claims to have [illegible] on a steamer to Europe, having obtained the money for his passage by selling pictures of his outfit. He says that all sparring matches must be limited to ten rounds.

DICTATOR STARVES AMERICAN HE CAPTURES

Pittman, Dying for the Lack of Food, Found in a Filthy Nicaraguan Prison.

MADRIZ IS REMINDED OF HIS PROMISES

Subjects of the United States Appeal to Government for Protection.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Confined in a filthy cell 6 by 5 feet, unfed save by charitable strangers, William Pittman, an American captured by the Madriz government forces near Bluefields, was found in an overcrowded local prison at Managua, Nicaragua, by Consul Olivares.

The consul telegraphed the State Department that he visited Pittman, discovered the revolting conditions and forced Dr. Madriz to furnish the adventurous American better prison accommodations.

Pittman, whose relatives live at Cambridge, Mass., told Consul Olivares he left Greytown July 4, that since then his captors have failed to provide him with food, leaving him dependent for subsistence upon charity. Pittman was starving.

OLIVARES PROTESTS

Olivares immediately protested, reminding Madriz of his promise to treat Pittman with consideration. Madriz finally agreed to transfer Pittman to a larger and cleaner cell and to allow the consul to supply him with a sleeping cot and food. The consul reported no definite action regarding Pittman had been determined by the de facto authorities, but that he, Olivares, will exert every effort to insure fairness and humane treatment of the prisoner.

When the United States originally learned of Pittman's arrest, Dr. Madriz assured Olivares the prisoner would be treated fairly and considerately.

AMERICANS THREATENED

Constant complaints from American citizens at Matagalpa relative to threats against their lives and property by agents of the Madriz government are being received by the American [illegible] service.

Consul Olivares cabled to the State Department today that the anti-American feeling in the western part of Nicaragua, the section under control of the Madriz faction, is daily growing more bitter. Mr. Olivares has made vigorous representations to Dr. Madriz and has cited to him Secretary Knox's warning that his government will hold the Madriz faction strictly accountable for American life and property.

ASK PROTECTION

British and German subjects at Matagalpa have appealed to their consuls in Managua for protection. So far no representations as to these have been made to the German and British home governments or to Washington, probably because the British and German consuls are Nicaraguan local merchants.

American Consul General Eberhardt, who is now at large and is now in Managua on a tour of inspection, cabled the State Department yesterday substantiating the reports of alarm of foreign residents. He said it is the opinion at Matagalpa was that these anti-foreign demonstrations were instigated by the Madriz faction, whose officials openly have threatened Americans and other foreigners.

BROTHER SURPRISED

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 15.—Edward F. Pittman, brother of William Pittman, who is confined in a Nicaraguan prison, was surprised last night to learn that his brother had been suffering hardships.

"I had been led to believe from the sources I received from Washington," Mr. Pittman said, "that my brother was well treated and the government was meeting with satisfactory results in its efforts to do something for him. I received a telegram from Acting Secretary of State Wilson on June 5 which was most reassuring and my mother and I have felt much relieved.

"I shall make another appeal to Washington, but it seems hard not to do anything directly for my brother."

PHYSICIAN PRISONER

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—Reports received yesterday by steamer from Bluefields state that Dr. Clarence Burgheim, an American, is being held a prisoner by the Madriz forces in Nicaragua, who compel him to treat the wounded at Bluefields Bluff as well as those who are convalescing on the steamer Venus.

Dr. Burgheim, whose home is given as Houston, Tex., is charged by the Madriz commanders with having aided General Estrada at Bluefields by treating the wounded there. Giving this as an excuse, they made him a prisoner when they found him here at Principulka.

FATHER HEARS NOTHING

HOUSTON, Tex., July 15.—I. Burgheim, father of Dr. Clarence Burgheim, reported to be held a prisoner by the Madriz forces in Nicaragua, said last night that he had not heard from him for some time. The last he heard was when he was stationed at Principulka, where it is reported he was captured.

Dr. Burgheim has been in Nicaragua for eight years and was appointed chief of the sanitary division by General Estrada last October with the rank of colonel. He has had entire charge of the sanitary work in Estrada's military operations since that time and has been highly commended by the latter on various occasions. He maintained headquarters at Principulka and was supposed to be immune from molestation as a non-commissioned officer. Dr. Burgheim is unmarried.

Detained Boat Sails With Contraband

MOBILE, Ala., July 15.—The Norwegian steamer [illegible] detained here for two days by customs officials because she had contraband goods on board destined for the Madriz faction in Nicaragua, sailed from here today. B. Abadi of New Orleans, supposed to be in charge of the cargo of ammunition, was a passenger. Clearance papers were granted the steamer last night at midnight.

Governor Hughes Ends House-Hunting Tour

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Governor Hughes of New York finished his house-hunting tour of the capital and left for Albany today.

It was said he went without finally selecting the home he will occupy when he comes here to go on the Supreme Court bench in October.

CHEMISTS GREET BERKELEY FACULTY

Delegates Pass Morning Visiting University and Meeting Instructors.

BERKELEY, July 15.—The delegates to the American Chemical Society's convention visited Berkeley this morning in a body and passed the greater part of the time in viewing the various departments of the University. Arriving here at 9:30 o'clock the members proceeded directly to the campus, where they were met by a reception committee composed of Professors George C. Colby, H. C. Biddle, Edmund O'Neill, W. C. Morgan, F. G. Cottrell, E. W. Hilgard, G. W. Shaw and W. C. Blasdale.

According to the program of the convention there were to have been four separate meetings of the delegates at which papers were to be presented on topics of interest, but owing to the brevity of the time allotted for the visit these arrangements were done away with and the visitors were guided about the campus in groups and given an opportunity of inspecting all the buildings and departments. Especial attention was paid to the chemistry and agricultural buildings.

GIVES DEMONSTRATION

Professor F. G. Cottrell gave a demonstration of his smoke-reducing apparatus for smelters in the laboratory of the chemistry building. The room was crowded with interested spectators who followed the inventor's remarks with keen attention.

At 11:30 the visitors departed for the Key Route wharf, where they boarded the steamer Arrow for a tour of the bay. The Selby smelter was visited and an inspection was made of the Mountain Copper Company's plant at Martinez. On the return trip to San Francisco many points of interest were viewed.

LAWYERS BELIEVE HUDDLESON INSANE

The Convicted Murderer May Escape Prison by Going to Asylum.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Charles F. Huddleson, convicted early this week in Superior Judge Lawlor's court of murder in the second degree for stabbing Joseph Coburn to death with a chisel, appeared this morning for sentence. After denying to the defendant a new trial Judge Lawlor was requested by Huddleson's attorneys to inquire into the sanity of the prisoner.

The [illegible] motion, saying that the testimony was [illegible] as to the crime.

GOES ON STAND

He then placed Huddleson on the stand to answer the usual questions put to prisoners in connection with passing sentence. Huddleson's condition on the witness stand was such as to warrant his lawyer in asking for the sanity investigation and the judge granted the request.

Huddleson's wife is living in Oakland and she and other members of the family have been cited to appear before Judge Lawlor Monday morning to testify as to their relative's mental condition. Huddleson's lawyers believe that they will be able to show that the convicted man is mentally irresponsible and secure his commitment to an asylum.

Speeding Automobile Menaces Man's Life

EDITOR TRIBUNE: I came within an inch of being killed yesterday and I tell the story in the hope that it may prevent others from losing their lives in a like risk.

I was sitting on the front seat of a street car on an outside seat. When I got off, being so near the front of the car, I started to walk across the street. Something inclined me to stop and wait for the car to pass. Then I discovered an automobile was on the opposite side of the car from me within two feet of it and so near the car that if I had passed in front of the car as I started to do it would have been impossible for me to have escaped being run over by the machine. No signal was given by the driver of the automobile to warn passengers alighting from the car and he was on the wrong side of the street in addition to being in the center of the street instead of on one side.

Fire Sweeps Away Unlucky Nevada City

RENO, Nev., July 15.—The town of Palisade, situated eight miles west of Carlin at the intersection of the Southern Pacific and Eureka and Palisade railroads, was almost completely destroyed by fire Wednesday. With the exception of the railway buildings, which were saved by heroic work, every business building was burned as well as several residences. The loss is estimated at about $50,000 with no insurance. This is the second time the town of Palisade has been entirely demolished this year.

This spring the entire town then standing on the south side of the track was washed away by the flood. The citizens then crossed to the north side of the track, leveled off a hill and built anew. The Valley House was one of the largest hotels in the state and its owner had just completed an annex and added modern improvements. The origin of the blaze is yet unknown.

England Would Cut Naval Expenditures

LONDON, July 15.—During the debate on naval expenditures in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon Premier Asquith related that it was the desire of the British government to come to a friendly agreement with Germany looking to the curtailment of armaments.

"I wish," said the Prime Minister, "an arrangement could be reached with Germany for a reduction of the vast naval expenditure. This government has approached the German government on the subject, but the latter can do nothing owing to the naval laws on its statute books."

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT MALARIAL POISONING

Malaria is a systemic blood poison, a disease which gradually destroys the richness and nourishing elements of the blood. When the malarial poison begins to absorb the rich, red corpuscles of the circulation we see pale, sallow complexions, and a general impairment of health. But Malaria means more than this, and as the blood becomes weaker from the poison, the appetite fails, digestion is disturbed, chills and slight fever are frequent, and in aggravated cases boils and eruptions, liver spots, and even abscesses break out on the flesh. To sum it all up, Malaria means blood poverty, and the only way to cure the trouble is to enrich and purify the blood. Nothing is equal to S. S. S. as a blood purifier and it is specially adapted to the cure of malarial troubles, because it contains no harmful minerals, and while ridding the blood of the malarial poison, S. S. S. builds up the entire system by its fine tonic effects. If you are suffering with malaria, begin the use of S. S. S. at once, and by cleansing the blood, rid yourself of this wasting disease. Book on the Blood and any medical advice free to all. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

KAUFMAN SAYS HE KNOWS HOW TO WIN FROM JOHNSON

COFFROTH WOULD STAGE WOLGAST AND MORAN 20 ROUNDS

Al Kaufman Wants Graney to Come Through With That Forfeit

COFFROTH MAY STAGE WOLGAST AND MORAN

Sunshine Jim Has These Two Tied Up and Will Promote Bout, if Such Is Possible

By EDDIE SMITH.

WITH a smile that won't come off Jimmy Coffroth announced last evening that he was of the opinion that if the promoters of boxing will mind their P's and Q's for a short time the game will be rehabilitated within the next few months and that the twenty-round contest would be staged the same as before the big stick of the governor fell. One of the best features to boxing is the fact that we have few promoters in the country with the class of Coffroth when it comes to staging a bout, and it is not at all improbable that the others will fail to take his advice. Jimmy has practically signed Owen Moran and Ad Wolgast for a twenty-round contest in San Francisco during the month of August. Manager Tom Jones, acting for the champion, agreed to the match on condition that if Wolgast's injured arm was still bad he would be able to call the match off. Moran is ready and if Jones reports Wolgast ready the match is made. Coffroth has been talking about going to Reno to start business. We don't want to make a noise like a boiler shop, but if Jamesy takes a look at Reno now that the Johnson-Jeffries thing is over there isn't the slightest doubt but that he will change his mind. At that Jim may stage some boxing contests there and it is not entirely out of the bounds of possibility that he will put Sam Langford and Tommy Burns on at the divorce city.

Eddie Thompson Is Back

"Canadian" Eddie Thompson and his manager, Frank Cash, called at the office this morning to tell of their experiences in Europe. During his stay in Oakland Eddie became very popular with the followers of pugilism, and the fact that he had already made one trip almost around the world made him a most interesting person to buy a tub of suds from while he was dealing the benzine at a local emporium. Thompson has returned to Oakland for just a short stay, as he is going to South America to mix up in the boxing game there. Thompson fought in Paris, Belgium and London, and also managed John Middlesk in his European tour. Thompson tells many interesting stories about the game in the old country, but the most interesting at this time is his information to the effect that boxing is growing more and more popular in every big city of Europe. Thompson says that boxing is becoming very popular at Copenhagen, Denmark, and says that he was offered a position as a boxing instructor there. "The game is in its infancy," says Eddie, "but believe me, they are all Battling Nelsons. It's not a bit soft boxing the Danes." It is extremely gratifying to learn that the boxing game is spreading all over Europe and becoming so popular just now when there is such an agitation against the game in our own country. Thompson will remain in Oakland for about two weeks and as he has some most interesting stories to tell of the game across the big drink the fans gather about him wherever he appears.

Kaufman Sues Graney

Albert Kaufman bounded into the limelight again yesterday by first filing suit against Eddie Graney for his forfeit money that should be coming to him through the fact that his bout with Langford was not staged and by declaring that he has discovered and perfected the system with which to lay John Arthur Johnson low. What Kaufman has to say of Graney's honesty we cannot repeat. The pugilist is exceptionally sore over the fact that the supposed stakeholder insisted on his money being posted while he did not get the club's money. Kaufman says he cannot see where the honesty or justice comes in, for with his money up he was bound to the articles while the club was left to do as it pleased. I do not think that Albert will be able to collect the money from Graney through the Superior Court of San Francisco, for they will in all probability throw the case out of court, but if he was looking for satisfaction he has succeeded, for he has killed whatever little reputation Graney had left for honesty in sporting dealings. As to his beating Johnson, it may come about in a year's time that Kaufman may be able to best the colored man, but at this time we can hardly figure him a chance.

Griffin Still in the Game

Jim Griffin is still after an Abe Attell-Lew Powell match for his July show and has secured the permission of Powell to make the match. Jim is having some little trouble in getting Attell. It is the intention of the red-haired promoter to make it a fifteen round no-decision affair with a six-round preliminary. Looks like a very good match, and we hope he lands it but as the time is drawing near Jim should either tie it up in the next few days or let it drop. In the meantime Attell is reported matched with Peter McVeigh at Seattle, the bout to be staged if the governor does not interfere. Poor Abe, he gets such tough ones. Can you picture what Attell will do to this poor simpleton McVeigh if the big chief doesn't interfere. McVeigh has about as much chance with Attell as the ice trust will have when the devil gets control of it.

Little Still Ranting

The George Little-Jack Johnson trouble keeps cropping up. Yesterday Little visited the theatre where Johnson is working and demanded an audience. The pesty "Mr." Little did so while the champion was on the stage and was thrown out of the place. Johnson agreed to see the manager and talk things over in his dressing room. The fighter and ex-manager talked for an hour in the dressing room of the negro fighter. Little realizes that when his trouble with Johnson is over he will fade away into obscurity and he is making the best of the opportunity to break into the public print. Little declares Johnson owes him money, and no doubt he is right. The chances are Johnson charged the manager a salary to stay around the camp, and believe me, it was worth all he borrowed to have the pest about.

Honest John Kelly Is Seriously Ill

NEW YORK, July 15.—"Honest John" Kelly, known to sporting men the world over, is seriously ill in his home here. Several weeks ago it became evident that he was suffering from a serious organic trouble and two days ago an operation became necessary. The operation was successful, but Mr. Kelly suffered severely from the shock and was not encouraged by learning that it would also be necessary for him in all probability to submit within a short time to an operation for appendicitis.

The physicians say there is hope of Mr. Kelly's recovery, but admit his condition is serious and his vitality is at a low point.

Umpire Nearly Starts a Riot At St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, July 15.—Umpire Klem benched Manager Dahlen, Pitcher Knetzener and Shortstop T. Smith of the Brooklyn team yesterday afternoon during the game with the St. Louis Nationals.

In the seventh inning Klem called Lennox out on what looked to be a ball to Dahlen, who was coaching at third base. He made a remark not to the liking of the umpire, who ordered him to the club house.

Brooklyn players on the bench jeered at the order and Klem promptly benched Knetzener and Smith. After the game a spectator criticised Manager Bresnahan and his team. Bresnahan and Mowrey started after the spectator, Mowrey with a couple of baseball bats, but they were prevented from doing any harm by a police sergeant.

"SCOUT" HORNER IS DEAD.

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—"Jack" Horner, known in baseball circles, died here today at a hotel, as a result of a fall. Entering the hotel baths with friends shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday morning, Horner slipped on a marble step and fell to the floor, fracturing his skull. He never regained consciousness. He was traveling as a scout of the Detroit Baseball Club.

All of the crack teams in the Inland Empire will be invited to take part in the tournament and the championship of this section of this county is to be settled.

Dick Cullen Boxes Draw With Unholz

Dick Cullen, the San Francisco lightweight, well known on the coast as one of the hardest hitting of the younger performers at the semi-amateur shows, is doing well in Australia. The Sydney papers devote much space to his recent fight with Rudie Unholz, in which a draw decision was given. But, according to the press the decision should have been given to Cullen.

The Sydney Sportsman refers to the decision as "execrable," and continues: "It follows on a long list of crook crook, cracked decisions of this past season, which have doubtless earned for the Sydney stadium the reputation of being fitted out with some of the most cock-eyed referees, that ever stepped into a boxing ring."

Cullen went from Sydney to Brisbane, where he defeated Ted Jesson, a promising Australian lightweight, and expects to return to the coast via Honolulu in the near future.

Sporting Brevities

Rol Parr paid only $250 for Spindle at the Silver Brook farm and Willie Shields took him out of a selling race for $750. Parr has such a good opinion of the judgment of Shields that he bet $700 of the $750 on Spindle at 5 to 1 and cleaned up $3500 when he won at Fort Erie. Shields also cleaned up.

Wise men of the baseball firmament are unanimous in the selection of Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, as the richest man now identified with the game who acquired his start in life while wearing the spikes. But nobody ventures even a hint as to the banking account of the Old Roman. He's quoted among the millionaires, however, and the man behind one of the biggest baseball plants known to the pastime.

Comiskey salted away his dimes and nickels at regular intervals while wearing the brown at St. Louis and later seized his opportunity to further swell the savings, until today Comiskey stands at the top of the heap among the financial kings of baseball.

Connie Mack, known in private life as Cornelius MacGillicuddy, who is driving his Athletics at a furious pace in the American League pennant scramble, has always led a frugal life, laying away his earnings as a player until the bankbook boasted of something really substantial.

Later Mack swung his dynamic forces into line with Benjamin Shibe, owner of the Philadelphia Americans, and the Connie Mack of today, tall, rawboned and angular, possessed of wistful, penetrating eyesight and a bench manager par excellence, is reputed immensely wealthy. Mack is said to have a fourth interest in the Athletics, receives a regular salary and cuts in at every session for a quarter of the club's profits.

Ned Hanlon, one of the early pillars of the national game and the present boss of all he surveys at Baltimore, sank his savings as a player in real estate ventures in Pittsburg, later acquired an interest in the Orioles, as well as the Philadelphia club, and the rest was easy sailing. The sale of the Louisville franchise netted George $100,000 in American plunks.

CARD OF GOLDEN GATE CLUB A GOOD ONE

Will Stage Ten Four-round Bouts at Dreamland Rink This Evening.

The Golden Gate Athletic Club will stage ten four round bouts this evening at Dreamland Pavilion and as the pick of the amateur talent has been signed up by Manager Eddie Powers the fight fans should see some exciting sport. The feather weight contest between Walter Scott of this city and Frank Harris, the speedy Los Angeles boxer, who has been winning all of his battles, should be a spirited affair. While it is not the headliner on the bill of fare there are no bouts on the program that overshadow it.

Heavy weights Charlie Miller and Victor McLaglen are to toe the scratch in the windup, and judging by the reports sent out from George Green's gymnasium the Seattle boxer will trim the motorman pugilist before the fourth round is reached. McLaglen is touted as a rattling fast fighter with a stiff punch.

Buck Crouser and Kid George will clash in one of the specials, and the Pittsburger is said to be fast enough to take the measure of the Oaklander. Crouse has cleaned up all of the amateurs around the Smoky City and expects to make a name for himself on this coast.

The remainder of the card will be made up of the following scrappers: Frankie Edwards vs. Charlie Sullivan, 133 pounds; Art Nelson vs. Jack Daly, heavy weights; Fred Lang vs. Fred Brooks, middle weights; Lawrence Granfield vs. Frankie Regan, feather weights, and a trio of preliminaries. The first go will be put on at 8:30 o'clock sharp, and Eddie Powers says there will be no delays between bouts.

SCRAPPER GETS KNOCKED OUT AND YEAR IN COOLER

HAMPTON, Va., July 15.—William Durand, who claims the heavyweight pugilistic championship of the United States Navy, was convicted here today by a jury in the Circuit Court of prizefighting. He was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. Durand was knocked out several weeks ago by a negro named Scarborough in the first round of what was to have been a ten-round mill. Durand formerly lived in Pennsylvania.

Louisiana Sheriff Says No Bouts Here

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 14.—Sheriff Marrerro, of Jefferson Parish, La., where nearly all prizefights in Louisiana have been fought, has issued an order prohibiting the Nelson-Wolgast fight. They were notified in positive terms that any attempt to pull off a fight would result in the arrest of all parties implicated. Sheriff Marrerro issued the order because it was feared here that a renewal of prizefighting in Louisiana would injure the chances of New Orleans for its Panama Exposition. Jefferson Parish is opposite New Orleans.

Eastern Baseball Notes

"An accident common to ball players started me on the downward path of umpiring," says Jack Sheridan. "In youth I aspired to be a field athlete, and got along very well until I went to Chattanooga, Tenn., to play second base with a pig iron arm. That was in the spring of 1885. Early in the season they used the acid test on the arm and it was a case of the can for me. They had passed the Iron Age in Dixie. Henry Grady, the silver-tongued statesman, was president of the Southern League at that time. He must have thought my voice sounded ripe for the business, so he offered me a soft snap umpiring at $75 per month. I needed the money, but had I known then what I do now, I would not have needed the money. Some times a fellow can get along without it. However, I was a youngster far from my sunny California home, and the $75 per looked good before I got busy. I was assigned to Macon, Ga., where they opened with great eclat, as the society papers say, and I umpired since then."

At last an answer has been reached in the mammouth problem of setting a starting time for single-header ball games in Washington. The mountain never labored harder when it brought forth a mouse than the officials of the Washington Club have labored in evolving the decision to begin the games hereafter—at least for the present—at the witching hour of 4:30 p. m.

Sheridan, the American League umpire, who suddenly announced his intention of quitting the game just before the contest between Washington and New York last week, told President Johnson at Chicago that his eyes are going back on him and that as he would have to wear glasses, he had decided to quit the game for good. Mr. Johnson sent the umpire to an eye specialist and hopes that Jack can be influenced to don umpire's togs again.

It looks as though Lou Criger, the veteran catcher of the Highlanders, is out of the game for the balance of the season. The physicians who have been examining him thoroughly since it was discovered that he was having trouble with his appendix, have declared that if Lou has the operation now he will hardly be able to play ball again before October 1, and that if he doesn't undergo the operation now his troublesome appendix will prevent his playing baseball this summer anyhow.

Captain Williams

CAPTAIN WILLIAMS IS FEATURE AT PIEDMONT

Season Is Open and the Gun Swimming Exhibition Tomorrow Night.

Captain Jack Williams, a swimmer of world renown, will give an exhibition of his prowess at the Piedmont Baths tomorrow evening. This veteran of the water is past seventy-three years of age and lays the longevity of his life to the fact that he has virtually lived in the water.

Twenty years ago Captain Williams was a well known character at the Terrace Baths in Alameda and while there gave an exhibition of swimming that is still talked about. On this occasion Williams dove off the Alameda Mole with the intentions of swimming to San Francisco. Later in the day he was taken out of the water at Black Point, much against his will, but as he had been in the bay from ten o'clock that morning and it was after four in the afternoon, his friends would not heed his pleas.

Williams was also a great sufferer from rheumatism at that time and claims that the continual living in the salt brine cured him. Tomorrow evening Williams will array himself as shown in the accompanying photo and will swim the entire length of the baths several times.

Besides the feat of Captain Williams there is to be high and fancy diving and tub and egg races. The water in the baths is now considered the best obtainable due to the installation of an entire new filtering plant. The evening's program will commence at 8 p. m. with an admission charge for spectators of ten cents.

SPORTSMEN BEGIN TO CHASE THE WILY DEER

Season Is to Open and Gun Men Are Out Seeking Game.

By the operations of the law the legal protection accorded doves and deer under the state statues governing hunting is withdrawn temporarily today, and before nightfall the supply of game in the State will be smaller, perceptibly or otherwise, than it was when the sun set yesterday. Judging from the large number of hunting licenses sold during the last few weeks there is a formidable army of hunters scattered through the counties where local governing boards were not obliged to name a later opening date for purposes of game conservation, and with both deer and doves reported plentiful good sport seems to be assured.

The exodus of sportsmen began yesterday, the first train out for Marin county points carrying about 100 deer hunters, and the outward movement continued all day. Nearly all of the dove hunters turned to the south, while venison seekers traveled in all directions. Most of the rifle carriers who started yesterday, however, had designs on the antlered bucks in Marin county. Any one fortunate enough to bring down two bucks today must stow away his equipment, as the law prohibits the killing of more than that number by a hunter during the season, while doves may be slaughtered to the number of twenty a day.

The usual opening day delegations will hunt over the grounds of the Tamalpais, Lagunitas and Point Reyes clubs in Marin county.

A great many local sportsmen went to distant points for an inaugural deer hunt.

Doves are plentiful in Monterey and San Benito counties and in the San Joaquin Valley.

In San Joaquin, Tulare, San Mateo and Santa Barbara counties the dove season does not open until August 1, and the opening day in Merced county is August 15, while in Santa Cruz county the season lasts only fifteen days, October 1 to 15.

Deer hunting does not begin until August 1 in Alameda, Santa Clara, San Benito and Ventura counties, and the season opens fifteen days later in Santa Barbara county. The season opens in Santa Cruz and Tulare and closes in Marin county on September 1.

Local District Attorney Says No Fight Pictures

BERKELEY, July 15.—There will be no display of the moving pictures of the Johnson-Jeffries fight in Alameda county, if District Attorney William H. Donahue can stop them.

He declared today, following the announcement that Promoter Gleason was seeking a permit from the Albany board of trustees, that he would stop the pictures if he could find the law giving him the authority to prohibit them.

Gleason applied to the trustees of Albany a few days ago for a permit to show the motion pictures. He was told that he would have to form an athletic club and pay a license of $300 before he could show the films in the little city north of here.

Lewis and Smith Will Meet in the Ring Tonight

NEW YORK, July 15.—Willie Lewis and Jim Smith will meet in a ten-round boxing bout at the National Sporting Club here tonight. Judging from the past performances of the two men, the bout should be a good one. Smith, although a new man, has demonstrated such cleverness in his few battles and also that he possesses a good punch. Although knocked out by Stanley Ketchel in six rounds recently, the showing he made against the champion was regarded as very good. Lewis is a veteran at the game and has won many important battles. He, too, has been knocked out by Ketchell.

CUBS AND GIANTS FIGHTING FOR NATIONAL LEAGUE LEAD

BEAVERS STILL LEADERS IN COAST LEAGUE PENNANT RACE

San Francisco Scores Victory Over Senators, Holding Second Place

LONGITES HAVE A LUCKY INNING AND WIN

Good Fielding and Base Running Keep Senators From Scoring.

The Goddess of Luck smiled on Danny Long and his hired men out at Freeman's park yesterday afternoon and when he got through smiling the Seals had the long end of the 5-to-1 score in the third game of the series with the Senators. Even for that the San Francisco outfit played a fine game of ball at all stages of the contest and deserved to win, still you cannot get away from that fact that Long's men are mighty lucky nearly all the time. Nearly every time they got a hit it meant something in the run column while the Senators' bingles all went for naught except in one instance.

That Oakland fans appreciate good ball was evident from the crowd that was on hand and even if they rooted for the men from Sacramento they did not overlook any of the good plays no matter who made them.

Seals Start Early

San Francisco was the first to grace the scoreboard and they did it in the very first round. After Shinn had flown out to Bodie, and Burns had died on a fly to right, Perry took a walk and went to third on a line drive into center by Danzig. Perry might have scored had he used his own judgment and not that of the coacher. Danzig gave Perry another chance to hit the plate when he pulled a throw from Williams to Mohler, but Perry couldn't see it that way. Boardman could have got his name in the hall of fame but the best he did was a measley poke to McArdle, who winged him out at first base.

Madden for the Seals stuck around long enough to get a ticket to first base. Mohler's slow ball to Shinn put Madden at second and he moved over to third while Fitzgerald was throwing Vitt out at first base. Tommy Tennant was the bingle kid and Madden made the plate on the liner the first sacker drove into right. One run.

Senators Gather in 4th

In the fourth round Sacramento tallied their first and only run and the deadly base on balls figured in the play. Danzig, first up, received transportation to first base, getting to second on Boardman's sacrifice. Briggs singled, sending Danzig to third and then was foolishly caught out trying to annex second base. Heister, who is proving himself some ball player, cracked one between Mohler and McArdle and Danzig hit the plate.

In the fifth inning with one down Burns and Perry singled and Danzig was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Boardman could have been the hero this time, but he fanned while Briggs was out, Stewart to Tennant.

7th Lucky for Seals

Through a boot by Burns of Williams' hit McArdle's out, a single by Stewart and an error by Briggs the San Francisco team made a tally in the fifth inning. In the seventh they put the game away in the little grip for keeps. Bodie opening the round made his usual hit and went to second when Johnny Fitzgerald made a fozzle of Lewis' hit. Williams went out, Boardman to Danzig, and both men moved up a peg. A pass to McArdle filled the bases. Stewart now burst into the limelight with a pretty single over second, and the first two crossed the pan, while Mac went to third. During the time that Burns was throwing Madden out at first base the Seals' shortstop was scoring, making it three for the inning and five for the day. Outside of a hit by Briggs in the eighth and another by Vitt in the same round there was nothing worth mentioning so we'll write the end. Following is the score:

Sidelights of the Game

Seals win.

* * *

Vernon checks the Angels.

* * *

Beavers keep up the good work.

* * *

Fitzgerald had all the worst of the luck.

* * *

Brilliant fielding kept the Senators from scoring.

* * *

Of course Danny's return to the bench had much to do with the win.

* * *

Bodie made a clever catch of Shinn's drive in the opening round, while Madden robbed Burns of a hit right afterward.

* * *

Danzig hit one good and hard in the opener, but it didn't produce anything that looked like a run.

* * *

The first three times Shinn went to the bat he flew out to Bodie in left, who had to sell some to get the drive.

* * *

Madden is certainly the class of the fielders of the two teams and backs up every hit to his outfield in clever style.

* * *

The heady baserunning of this lad was practically responsible for the Seals' first run.

* * *

Tommy Tennant gets kidded unmercifully by the Oakland bugs, still, he goes right on playing a bangup first base.

* * *

Vitt continues to electrify the fans with his brilliant fielding at third and his speedy pedal work on the bases.

* * *

Fitzgerald fanned every time he went to the bat and his substitute, Mike Hunt, did likewise.

* * *

Oakland received an awful trimming up north through the poor pitching of Christian and are now in fifth place.

* * *

Two singles, a double, triple and home run is some hitting in one inning. This is what the Beavers did to Perry's wonderful slabster.

* * *

Thorsen had one of his bad days at Los Angeles and the Hooligans gave his curves a lacing.

* * *

Don Cameron is out of the game up north, with Willie Hogan at first base and Frank Carroll in the outfield.

* * *

Oakland would have been whitewashed but for a fozzle of Martinke in the fourth inning that let in a run.

* * *

Daley and Murphy made three hits apiece down in Los Angeles, but they did not do much good.

* * *

Christian did not issue a pass in the northern game, while Garrett gave two. The Oakland man fanned five and the Beaver canned but one.

* * *

The Angels and the Seals were the two teams that got away with their games without a boot.

* * *

After Shinn had flew out to Bodie, Burns, Perry and Danzig got on the bags, but a strike out and a play by Stewart to the plate retired the side in the fifth.

* * *

Perry combed one into center that was headed for the scoreboard in the third, but Jimmy Lewis, by a clever piece of footwork, got under the ball.

* * *

Danzig hit one that looked safe in the eighth, but Vitt made a quick scoop of the ball and nailed his man at first.

* * *

A funny one happened to Mohler in the fourth that caused a laugh. He was at first with two down and Bodie at bat. Ping fanned and La Longe threw the ball into center field. Mohler went tearing around the bases like a wild Indian and had reached third when told of his mistake.

* * *

Mickey let out a beich in the seventh, claiming that he had touched Lewis a foot from the plate when he hadn't. Still Mickey had run over to the bench and molled Jimmy he would have been out but Lewis hasn't touched the plate yet.

* * *

Danzig ran from first base into the batter's box and caught a fly bunt that Lewis had made. The big fellow caught it on the dead run in a stooping position and was given a hearty hand.

* * *

Van Haltren said "You are out" to Danzig in the eighth inning long before he reached first base on his poke to Vitt. The fans gave a hoo-hoo at the old fellow but he was right for Danzig was running way out of line and that was what he was called out for.

* * *

It did not look as if Madden had fanned in the third inning, but the umpire said he did so that settled the argument then and there.

* * *

Outfielder Madden reminds one of "Dummy" Hoy, who was a star with Los Angeles a few years ago. Dummy never had a word to say, and neither has Madden.

* * *

Heister drove one out to Bodie's territory in the eighth that looked as if the ball was good for three bases. Ping hotfooted after it, though, and Heister went back to the bench much disgusted.

* * *

Vitt beat out a bunt in the eighth inning and then stole second in clever style. Thinking he could also land third, he was off, but a quick throw and clever stop by Boardman nailed Vitt at third base.

* * *

McArdle got the only extra base hit of the day, a long line drive up against the fence in left field.

* * *

Hy Baggerley and Ed Walter watched the game from the side of the clubhouse in left, and the players had them stepping sideways dodging the foul hits they drove out that way.

* * *

Tomorrow's game will begin at 2:30 p. m., while the Sunday morning game on this side commences at 10:10, and the afternoon game begins at 2:30 in San Francisco.

Sacramento is showing much improvement in their work and the Seals had to play to win, even if all the luck was with them.

SAME OLD TALE IS WIRED FROM PORTLAND

Christian Gets Bumped and the Beavers Have No Trouble Winning.

PORTLAND, July 15.—The Beavers went after Christian in great style yesterday, and took the game with some of the heaviest hitting they have done on the home lot this year.

Garrett was pitching for Portland and showed he has "come back" in good style, for if it had not been for Martinke's error, Oakland never would have been near scoring. In the fourth Hogan opened with a single to left and Carroll followed with one to right. It got through Martinke and rolled to the fence, Hogan scoring and Carroll taking third. That was the only chance the visitors had for scoring. They began to have hopes in the third and fifth, but perfect work by Casey and Olson prevented them from doing any damage.

Portland came right back in its half of the fourth. Rapps opened with a long double and was thrown out trying to make three bases. Fisher singled and Martinke was hit. Casey hit to Wolverton, who thought to retire the side with a double and threw to second instead of touching Fisher, who was going by him. The toss was wild and Fisher went on home.

In the fifth Ryan opened with a single, but was thrown out when Olson missed the ball on the hit-and-run play. Olson then came through with a three-bagger and Rapps followed with a home run. Fisher slammed out a double, Martinke struck out and Casey scored Fisher with a Texas leaguer over short.

HOOLIGANS STOP BERRY'S RUSH TO FRONT

Happicus Wins, Forcing Oaks Down Into Fifth Place.

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—Hogan captured the Angel goat yesterday at the Chutes. Score, Vernon 7, Angels 3, and also "some game." On looking over his slabsters Happy decided that Carson was about due, so he sent him to the mound, taking the tiller in his own hands. Thorsen, who pitched for the Angels, was pounded hard.

Things drifted along for the first three innings and the fans began to settle down for a close game, when Jess Stovall rung up the curtain on the fourth act, and it was a thriller. Stovall smote the ball to left center for a hit, Kitty Brashear picked out one of Thomas's choice offerings, planting the sphere far over the left-field fence, scoring Stovall and himself. Bert Coy lifted the ball to the Chutes gate, and Roy Brashear tore off a screaming single down the third-base line, driving Coy over the pan. Burrell, the sixth man up, sacrificed Roy to the keystone sack, going out himself. Lindsay and Brashear made a few signs at each other, said signs afterward developing into a hit-and-run play, Brashear scoring on the play. In the sixth, Bernard for the Angels bunched the ball over the right-field fence.

The next two spasms were unproductive of anything like a run. In the ninth Kitty Brashear singled to left, Coy and R. Brashear walked, filling the bases. Burrell hit a slow one to Howard, and Kitty Brashear scored. Lindsay singled, sending Coy and Roy home. In their half of the ninth the Angels scored two runs. Score:

S. A. S. TO PLAY SUNDAY.

The S. A. S. boys of Fruitvale again won a fast game from the Lincoln Park Seniors of Alameda Sunday, July 10, by a score of 5 to 0. The feature of the game was the shutout pitching of Todde of the S. A. S. team. The game was replete with exciting plays and was interesting throughout. Sunday, July 17, the S. A. S. team will play the Wilson school team at Recreation grounds in Fruitvale at 10:30 a. m. Both teams are equally matched and a good game is looked for.

OAKS HAVE LOST MUCH GROUND IN THREE WEEKS

Christian Is Not Living Up to the Predictions of the Wiseacres; Gossip of the Diamond

The percentage column today shows the Oakland baseball team in fifth place, quite a drop from where they were a month ago. There must be a reason for this and the fans are asking what it is. Let us be fair to everybody and see if we cannot pick out the cause of the slump of the home team. A few weeks ago the writer stated that, in his opinion, the team was weak in the box, that is, it did not have enough men that could keep the club out in front. The secretary of the Oakland club, H. S. McFarline, took occasion after that article to "roast" the baseball editor, claiming that it was an injustice to Harkins Christian, etc., to say that they were of little use to the team. Since that article was written Harkins has shown a decided improvement in his work, but as to Christian the baseball editor asks the fans to refer to his work. One game he won in that time and three he lost. Sacramento hammered him out of the box and one need but look at the score of yesterday's game at Portland to see what the Beavers did to this man that McFarline thinks is the best pitcher in the league. Maybe he is, but the fans are from the good old state where they say "Show me."

* * *

The big leagues are telling the fans what a great race they are having for the pennant, but can they beat the one the Pacific Coast League is having right now. There are five clubs within hailing distance of the top of the ladder, and the results of each game makes much difference in the winning and losing clubs' standings. Portland is ten points ahead of the Seals. The Seals are twenty-four points ahead of the Angels. Next comes the Hooligans with but four points between them and the Berryites, while the Oaks are in fifth place, six points behind Vernon.

* * *

Danny Long and Charley Graham had a little "run in" during the second inning, the boss of the Seals wanting the umpire to stop Graham from coaching from the line with no one on the bases. A very good argument, but shortly after Danny went the Senators' captain one better and broke the rule himself. Nick Williams was at first base and Long wanted him to know that there was one out. Getting up on his feet, Danny began to yell and to give signs with his fingers, but Graham didn't see it—anyway, he didn't object. Still it was funny to see Long calling a man down for breaking the rules and then turn around and break them himself.

* * *

Olson played a great game at short for the Beavers yesterday, having five putouts and eight assists, thirteen chances in all. When this youngster first broke into the game many of the fans were of the opinion that he wouldn't do, but, to the writer's mind and hundreds of others there isn't a better shortstop in the Coast League today and, we might add, in minor league baseball circles.

* * *

N. Brashear is playing a great first base for Hogan's men and is hitting the ball early and often. Yesterday he went to bat four times and landed on the pellet for three hits, one of which took him all the way around the bases. This makes his record read fourteen for the season, and if Ping don't hurry and make a few the southpaw will take his record from him.

* * *

Umpire Van Haltren is peeved. He says that he has been on the road eight weeks, with this one exception and that he must hit the road again right after the present series.

Rumors have it that the Oakland bunch will not stand for the old fellow and that that is the reason for him being shifted. If such is true the president of the league should assign Van Haltren to the coming games, for it is coming a pretty pass in baseball when a team can tell which umpire they want.

* * *

Fred Raymer of the Sacramento team, who was hit on the head by a pitched ball last Sunday in the morning game, is rapidly recovering and will leave the hospital this week. Yesterday a rumor was on the street that Raymer was worse, but Dr. Thompson stated today that he was in good shape and had almost recovered from the effects of his injury.

Catcher Orendorff is still suffering from the effects of the rap he received from Lively several series ago and as yet is slow on regaining his power of speech. His blow was almost the same as that which Raymer received and the troubles of the two men are about the same—both are slow in getting back their power of speech.

"Chic" Gandil, the former Coast Leaguer, who has been playing with Charley Comiskey's White Sox team, was seriously hurt about a week ago in a game at St. Louis and he may be out of the game for some time. With Dougherty on base, Gandil laid down a bunt and raced to first, just beating the throw. However, he collided with Newman, St. Louis' first baseman, and was seriously hurt. The play, though costly, won the game. The ball went by Newman and Dougherty came home with the winning run.

Zack David Wheat, the clever outfielder on the Brooklyn National League team, has a strong strain of Indian blood in his veins. Wheat, who was born at Hamilton, Mo., had a full-blooded member of the Cherokee Indian tribe for a mother. Mrs. Wheat is an enthusiastic reader of baseball and takes a great interest in her son's career. During the winter Zack lives on a farm near Kansas City.

Wheat is making a great hit with the Brooklyn fans this season. Zack broke into professional baseball with the Shreveport club, then a member of the Texas League. He was less than 20 years old. After leaving the Kansas City High School Wheat began playing independent ball with the Enterprise team.

Cable, a pitcher of the Kansas City team, received a letter in the fall of 1907 from Dale Gear, at the time manager of the Shreveport team. Gear wanted Cable to recommend an outfielder and a first baseman. Wheat learned of this and importuned Cable so strongly that the latter consented to send his name to Gear, with the result that Wheat was signed, to report the following spring.

At that time, Wheat says he was about the worst fielder that ever played the game. He was playing first base with the Enterprise team but was like a wooden man on a ground ball, and his efforts to catch a fly ball were awkward and frequently resulted in failure. About all he could do was to catch a thrown ball, but even then it was not always a sure thing that he would hold it. However, there was one department in the game in which he did excel—and that was batting.

He played a few games at first base, but Gear took him quietly to one side one day and told him that he never would make a first baseman if he lived a century. He had as a rival for the place Gandil, now first baseman for the Chicago White Sox. Elmer Rieger, now a pitcher with the St. Louis Cardinals, was also a member of the Shreveport team. During that summer of 1908 Wheat had his left arm broken by a pitched ball, and was out of the game for a month, the greater part of which time he spent on the bench watching the game. He had been playing right field. Along about August in 1908 Gear had need of a twirler and put through a deal with the Mobile club, whereby he secured a cash consideration and a pitcher for Wheat. Wheat finished the season of 1908 with the southern team.

Wheat played strong baseball for Mobile in the season of 1909, and his work attracted the attention of the Brooklyn club scouts. He was secured and reported to Brooklyn last fall. He at once showed in the limelight by his splendid work with the stick, and finished the season in the National League in fifth position.

In a recent game Steinfeldt and Chance were removed because they insisted that Sam Leever be debarred from pitching after he had banged Steinfeldt and Reulbach in the third inning. Steiny was struck in the side and Reulbach stopped one with the back of his neck. Neither was seriously injured, but the visitors claimed Sam was too dangerous a customer to face and they vociferously demanded his removal. Umpire Johnstone declined to do anything in the removing line and Chance, with Steinfeldt, were chased because they insisted too vigorously.

* * *

Sam Crawford of the Detroit Tigers is a better slugger than Ty Cobb, and to most of the fans this will occasion much surprise. Cobb's natural speed enables him to register most of his bingles, while Crawford's hits are clean ones.

* * *

According to the "dope" the Western Association of Baseball Clubs will soon be known as the Oklahoma State League, as negotiations are now on whereby a new circuit will be formed, comprising only cities in the state. For the last few weeks the Western Association has been on the shoals, so to speak, the patronage being such that several of the cities have figured on giving up their franchises, chief among them being Joplin, Muskogee, Tulsa and Guthrie. All have managed to remain in the association with the exception of Muskogee, which has quit, the team now being maintained by the league.

* * *

Ducky Holmes has quit his job as manager of the Toledo club in the American Association and it is reported that he may catch on as manager of the Omaha club, though "Pa" O'Rourke generally does his own managing there. Holmes would have enlisted into the Northwestern League last year had there been an opening.

BIG CON. MIDWAY GUSHER RIVALS LAKEVIEW

Flow From New Strike Said to Be 10,000 Barrels Per Hour.

MOJAVE DESERT TO YIELD, IS CLAIMED

Sand Has Been Found Near Searle at a Depth of 200 Feet.

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—According to the latest reports received the Consolidated Midway gusher promises to rival the Lakeview. The big well was brought in June 23 and when turned on is said to have filled a 20,000 barrel sump one-third full in less than an hour. The well is under control and its product can be handled at will. It is located about a mile east of the Lakeview.

There are indications that a new oil field will be developed on the Mojave desert. Oil sand has been found near Searles at a depth of 200 feet. The location is in the extreme southern portion of Kern county and the northern portion of San Bernardino county and has been attracting considerable attention recently in Bakersfield and in the district adjacent to the present [illegible] field. Many operators are of the opinion that oil in paying quantities will be developed. Several locations have already been made and prospectors are now going into the field in great numbers. Considerable development work will be done and the value of the new territory should be soon determined.

T. M. McLeod of the Hale-McLeod Oil company, operating in the Midway district, has purchased the property of the Western Crude Oil company in section 4-32-2[illegible] for $96,000 and will form a company to develop the property.

TO DRILL ON DISPUTED LAND

The United Development company, composed of Coalinga people, which is engaged in a contest over locations in the United States courts with the Southern Pacific, is making preparations to commence drilling on section 19-20-15. It is thought that the commencement of active operations will hasten the determination of the rights of the parties in the courts.

It is reported that the Standard has struck light oil in the Rabbit valley near Coalinga and the report is confirmed by the fact that a perforator has been rushed over the mountains to the property within the last week. It is claimed by those who have been operating there for some time that a light oil stratum has been encountered which it is believed extends to Halfmoon bay. Operations are now being conducted in that territory by the Warthan Oil company, a Coalinga corporation, which is drilling near the Fresno Hot Springs about ten miles east of Coalinga.

The belief that this light oil stratum exists is strengthened by the fact that some of the companies organized to prospect in San Benito and Monterey counties have at various times drilled into small producing sands yielding an extremely light oil. In one well on the Alvarez ranch this stratum was encountered at a depth of less than 200 feet.

BRINGS IN A NEW WELL.

It is reported that the American Oil Fields company has just brought in one of the biggest wells in the Midway field on sections 36-31-[illegible].

A dispatch received from Superintendent Martin of the Jameson Oil company operating in the North Midway field states that the company's No. 2 well has penetrated the oil sand at a depth of 1080 feet. The gas pressure is unusually strong and the prediction is made that it will be at least a 500 barrel well. The production of the company now exceeds 1000 barrels a day.

3600 ACRES OIL LAND WITHDRAWN

Geological Survey Spends Very Busy Month; Many Acres Restored.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The geological survey spent a busy month in June classifying supposed mineral and oil land which had been temporarily withdrawn from settlement and as a result millions of acres were returned to the public domain.

A resume of the work shows that 1,244,501 acres were classified as coal land while 1,[illegible] acres were determined as not coal land. The latter were restored to settlement. The sale price of the coal land was fixed at $80,665,866. The minimum price fixed by law for the same land is $14,300,923.

In Louisiana 1,030,[illegible] acres which had been withdrawn as oil lands were restored because they contained no oil.

OIL LAND WITHDRAWN

Withdrawals were made during the month covering [illegible] of coal lands and 360 acres of oil land.

The survey recommended in June that [illegible],933 acres of land located in Wyoming, Montana, New Mexico, Colorado, Washington, Oregon and Utah be designated for settlement under the enlarged homestead act.

In the Musselshell group placer claim in the Clearwater National Forest, Idaho, 500 acres were classified as mineral lands and 1130 acres as non-mineral lands.

TAFT WITHDRAWS MORE COAL LANDS

Total of 71,518,588 Acres Has Been Taken Back by the President's Orders.

BEVERLY, Mass., July 15.—President Taft today withdrew several million acres of coal lands in different states of the west, bringing the total acreage of coal land withdrawals made by him up to the enormous total of 71,518,588.

About half of this amount are new withdrawals. The work is now complete and is epitomized in the following letter to the President from Secretary Ballinger:

"My Dear Mr. President: The orders for the withdrawal of coal lands which are transmitted herewith will complete the series which have been prepared in accordance with your instructions. These orders confirm and continue all existing coal land withdrawals and add materially thereto. The areas covered are as follows:

Arizona, 161,[illegible] acres; Colorado, 6,191,161 acres; Montana, 20,208,805 acres; New Mexico, 2,241,979 acres; North Dakota, 17,5[illegible],152 acres; Oregon, [illegible] acres; South Dakota, 2,870,25[illegible] acres; Utah, 6,274,247 acres; Washington, 2,207,[illegible] acres; Wyoming, 13,9[illegible],418 acres.

The total of coal lands now withdrawn in the United States is therefore 71,518,588 acres.

All of it, however, is open to agricultural entry with a limited surface patent under the terms of the order of withdrawal and in accordance with the recent enactment providing for agricultural surface entries on withdrawn or classified coal lands.

"Already 10,210,082 acres of coal land in part included in the earlier withdrawals have been classified and appraised by the geological survey prior to July 1, 1910, and restored to appropriate entry.

The total appraised valuation on these coal lands is $449,876,208, as compared with $1[illegible],063,766, which would be the minimum price that formerly obtained in the disposal of government coal lands.

The order for withdrawal for Alaska approved by you on July 2 is of necessity in general terms on account of the lack of land surveys in the explored portion of Alaska, which comprises about 20 per cent of the district. The supposed areas of coal lands aggregate approximately 1,000 square miles. In these coal fields the areas believed to be underlain by workable beds of coal are about 1,[illegible]00 square miles, in more than three-fourths of which area only the lower grade coals occur. Thus the known coal lands of Alaska which are believed to be affected by your order of withdrawal aggregate some [illegible]0,000 acres. Very respectfully,

(Signed) R. A. BALLINGER,
"Secretary."

CANADIAN EXODUS BOOSTING MARKET

Severe Hot Weather in Russia and Absence of Rain Help.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Reports of an exodus from western Canada because drouth and heat had left many settlers no crops to harvest or subsistence for winter were coupled today with forecasts of continued heat in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Severe hot weather in Russia and along the Danube led to excitement and higher prices at Liverpool and with the absence of rain in the American northwest similar results here. There was big buying through commission houses from the outset. Stiff advances ensued. Most of the longs had sold on yesterday's bulge and therefore had little for sale. First prices were ⅜c to 2c higher. September started ⅝@1c to 1⅛@1⅜c up at $1.05¾ to $1.06½ and touched $1.06¼.

Temperatures of 100 degrees in the shade throughout Manitoba sent quotations to top prices of the season. Profit taking caused a reaction but the close was strong with September at $1.07 to $1.07⅛, a net gain of 2⅝@2⅞ to 2½@2⅝c.

Corn was active but unsettled. There was [illegible] demand for the September option but [illegible] houses had resting orders in profusion. Fine weather for the crop tended also [illegible] ease off prices. September opened ⅛c to ½c up with wheat at 60⅛c to 60⅜c and rose [illegible] to 60⅜c.

The market was alternately affected by the strength in wheat and by reports of rains. The close was firm with September ⅛c up at 60⅜c.

Private wire concerns and shorts were buyers of oats [illegible] longs unloaded. The market opened ⅛@¼ to ¼@⅜c up for September at 39⅛c to 39⅜c [illegible] fell back to 38⅞@39c.

The closing quotations were as follows:

Wheat—July $1.07⅛; September $1.07@1.07⅛; December $1.08½; May $1.11⅞@1.11⅞.

Corn—July 59⅞@60c; September 60⅜c; December [illegible]; May [illegible].

Oats—July 41½c; September 39⅛@39⅜c; December 40⅜@40½c; May 42½@42⅝c.

Pork—July $25.07; September $21.70.

Lard—July $11.3[illegible]; September $11.77½; October $11.6[illegible]@11.65.

Ribs—July $11.10; September $11.00; October $11.07½@11.10.

C. F. Davis wires from Grand Forks: "Yesterday was an extremely hard day on the crops. The temperature reached 95 according to the University figures with a brisk wind from the South.

I met a man last night who had just returned from a long trip through the northern portion of this state. He says he has never seen [illegible] conditions [illegible] at present.

On the White farm west of here the grain both wheat and oats are being cut with mowers for feed."

SAN FRANCISCO GRAIN MARKET

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Wheat—Strong [illegible] $1.[illegible]@1.60.

Barley—Strong; December $1.14⅝; cash $1.07[illegible].

Corn—Firm; large yellow $1.57½@1.60.

PORTLAND GRAIN MARKET

PORTLAND, July 15.—Wheat—Club 81@82c; [illegible] 85@86c; red [illegible] 78@79c; turkey red 80@81c; valley 81@85c.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN

LIVERPOOL, July 15.—Close: Wheat—July 7s 9[illegible]; October 7s 6[illegible]; December 7s 6¼d.

Wheat [illegible].

Opening—Wheat strong 1¼d to 1⅝d higher; corn [illegible] higher.

1:30 p. m.—Wheat 2⅜d higher; corn 1d higher.

July 7s [illegible]; October 7s 4⅝d; December 7s 6¼d; [illegible] up 2⅝d.

LIVERPOOL, July 15.—Market at the opening was affected by the strong American and Canadian cables and the unfavorable reports regarding the American and Canadian spring wheat [illegible] and advances were up 1d to 1½d. Shorts were [illegible] covered heavily with offerings light. Following [illegible] prices further [illegible] ⅝ to 1d.

Spot [illegible] at opening and generally 3d to 4[illegible] higher.

[illegible] shipments were light and reports from Russia [illegible] report hot weather with spring wheat suffering damage and both Russian and Danubian offerings are scarce and held very firmly.

It is a [illegible] belief here that the Canadian crop will be [illegible] short and this has served to stimulate [illegible] buying.

The continent continues to absorb cargoes arriving [illegible] offered for sale and those are held at 3d to [illegible] advance.

At mid-day the market was very strong and excited [illegible].

Corn was firm at the start and ⅛d higher and further advanced ⅛d to ¼d with shorts nervous [illegible] was stimulated by the firmness in La Plata [illegible] and the urgent demand for cargoes and parcels.—Broomhall.

July Wheat Shorts Forced to Cover

NEW YORK, July 15.—July wheat shorts ran to cover today, advancing the price 5½c per bushel to $1.1[illegible]. Late months were [illegible] on the alarming reports from spring wheat sections and strong cables, the latter indicating that Europe is beginning to realize the extent of the northwest damage. Foreigners were good buyers here at the opening.

Chicago Grain and Provisions

(By J. C. WILSON.)

July 15, 1910.

Wheat—Opened excited 1c to 1½c higher and there was no setback until there had been an advance of full 3c. Then on profit taking the market lost about half of the advance but recovered again later with the close at 2⅝c to [illegible] over yesterday. Liverpool came simply higher, also all other foreign markets, and before the opening in Chicago the Winnipeg curb was reported over 2c higher. The Northwest injected a new tonic into the market today. Grasshoppers were reported in abundance in Minnesota and the Dakotas and that simply added fuel to the fire. The news from Russia was also bullish again as regards the crop outlook there, though during the session it was reported that showers were prevailing. The report of rain, however, were denied later. The reaction from the early advance on profit taking was only natural and such setbacks must be expected from time to time. Profit-taking on long holdings is always commendable, but all the conservative commission houses are advising caution in operations on the short side. Even on the sharp bulges it is not worth taking the risk selling short. The danger is too great. While shipments for the week promise to be light and foreign markets will quite likely continue strong, in fact [illegible] become quite excited with the knowledge of the serious crop losses on this side and threatened in Russia. High temperatures prevailed in the Northwest today, 90 to 95, and that sort of weather is not helping to save what is left of the spring crop. The damage in that country seems to be more than most people realize, and what is more, the crop is suffering further damage every day. The time so long as this condition exists there will be no break of consequence and it would seem that every advantage should be taken of every [illegible] setback to buy December or May wheat.

Corn—Closed higher but it was not a very buoyant market. The strength was mainly in sympathy with wheat. Commission houses bought considerable corn and the market looks like it will do better but it may be slow for awhile. We would wait to see more moisture over the corn country before advising short sales, and even then there is not likely to be much profit made selling May corn short under 60c. It would seem safe to buy on the weak spots.

Oats—Also some higher. In fact showed considerable strength. Naturally the oats crop in the Northwest is suffering further damage and then we cannot help but call your attention again to the [illegible] loss in the hay crop. There will not be much profit in short sales of oats [illegible] and purchases would seem the best.

Provisions—July pork was marked up again. It is simply a drive at the shorts and the very fact that September pork and also lard and ribs lose 1 lower for all months shows the inherent weak position of the provision market. We would like to see a temporary upturn in product which would afford [illegible] opportunity to make judicious short sales.

BROKE BUT HAPPY, SAYS MILLIONAIRE

Dr. D. K. Pearsons Nearing the Goal for Which He Has Been Working.

CHICAGO, July 1[illegible].—Dr. D. K. Pearsons, the philanthropist, is one step nearer the goal of his ambition, the time when he will be penniless and homeless, but happy, declaring that his millions [illegible] long gone for the youth of the country.

Dr. Pearsons announced yesterday that his magnificent home at Hinsdale was on the market and that when it is sold he will go to a sanitarium to pass his remaining days.

On April 14, 1911, when he will be 91 years old, Dr. Pearsons plans to make his last bequest to the colleges that have already received $5,000,000 through his generosity. It will be his last bequest.

"A man is his own best executor," said Dr. Pearsons last evening, "and I intend to be my own. I will sell my home and use the money to pay my debts."

Dr. Pearsons always speaks of pledges to colleges as his "debts."

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Galena, Kans.—"A year ago last March I fell, and a few days after there was soreness in my right side. In a short time a bunch came and it bothered me so much at night I could not sleep. It kept growing larger and by fall it was as large as a hen's egg. I could not go to bed without a hot water bottle applied to that side. I had one of the best doctors in Kansas and he told my husband that I would have to be operated on as it was something like a tumor caused by a rupture. I wrote to you for advice and you told me not to get discouraged but to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did take it and soon the lump in my side broke and passed away."—Mrs. R. R. Huey, 713 Mineral Ave., Galena, Kans.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

ROMANTIC AUTHOR WRITES PLAY

GERTRUDE ATHERTON, California novelist, who is now engaged in writing her first play

WRITER ROASTS 'LITERARY FOLK'

Coteries All Mutual Admiration Societies, She Says in Letter.

Gertrude Atherton, former San Francisco newspaper woman and writer of California romance, is to submit a play to Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, the actress, which is destined, declare those who know, for production in Chicago next winter.

Both women decline to discuss the details of the plot of the new dramatic effort. It is believed to deal with the woman's suffrage question, in which Mrs. Atherton is deeply interested. The authoress was persuaded by Mrs. Fiske to give up her contemplated trip abroad. It is said, and ensconced in a small brick hotel in the burnt district, the novelist will confine herself to her labors to the practical exclusion of society until October at least.

IS FIRST ATTEMPT

It will be Mrs. Atherton's first essay at play writing, her literary work so far having been confined to stories, many of which, however, have possessed the highest opportunities for the dramatist.

That the local literary contingent is in no [illegible] pulse with the gifted writer is evidenced by a letter of hers sent to a friend in the East which was recently published in a New York paper. She says:

"I keep away from all literary folk out here.

"In the first place," she explains, "when I made my debut they all resented my existence because I did not come out of Bohemia, and the same spirit still endures, the more because I no longer [illegible] as merely a California writer.

COLONIES UNHEALTHY

"In the second place, I think all literary coteries and particularly colonies unhealthy, for they degenerate into mutual admiration societies and their members, while being content with one another's praise, and forget or affect to despise the great public beyond, which is quick to forget them. I have a theory that to accomplish big things you must stand alone. For my part I can only write on Mount Tamalpais or in San Francisco in summer when it is cool and bracing. The rest of the country puts me to sleep. Outside of those places, Chicago is the great nerve center.

"I have set up my work shop in a new little quiet hotel down in the burned district. Here I expect to remain and work into the autumn, when I shall go to Europe."

Los Angeles Lodge of Elks Win $100 for Appearance in Parade.

DETROIT, July 15.—The two events about which interest centered in the entertainment program of the National Reunion of Elks yesterday were the big parade of marching organizations from many lodges and the flights of two aeroplanes.

W. P. TO CARRY PASSENGERS SOON

August 22d Date Set Officially for Opening of Through Traffic.

CHICAGO, July 15.—August 22 is now the date officially announced for the opening of the new Western Pacific railroad to through passenger traffic, and the only reason for waiting until that time is the delay in obtaining the equipment from the car builders. Some of the new coaches are on the way west and deliveries are being received daily. H. M. Adams, freight traffic manager of the new railroad, who was in Chicago yesterday on his way to San Francisco, stated that the new line is in excellent condition and is moving freight on regular schedule.

"Contrary to reports," said Mr. Adams, "the freight service is already well established and the traffic is moving regularly, including fast freight. The principal towns in California reached by its own rails are Oroville, Marysville, Sacramento, Oakland, Stockton, Niles and San Francisco. The road is very well built, has very low grades and is laid with eighty-five pound steel rail."

MARK PAUPER'S GRAVE

YREKA, Cal., July 15.—No pauper will be [illegible] in an unmarked grave in Siskiyou county hereafter. The supervisors yesterday ordered that the grave of every person buried at the expense of the county be marked with a marble stone 18 inches high, 6 inches wide and 1 inch thick, and suitably inscribed.

EIGHT YEARS OF SUFFERING

CURED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

A Washington Woman Relates an Experience That Will Be of Value to All Pain Burdened Women Everywhere.

If you are approaching the fortieth year in a run down condition you will be interested in reading of the benefit that Mrs. John Utter, of Puyallup, Wash., received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after other treatments had failed to help her. She says:

"I suffered for eight years from all the pains and sickness that women of my age are subject to. I was able to work only part of the time and often could just drag around. Most people would have given up and gone to bed. I was so nervous that I could not get much sleep and was subject to headaches and dizzy spells. My stomach was out of order all of the time and I was troubled with gas forming on it. I would often have smothering spells when I could not raise myself up.

"I took a great many kinds of medicines but found no relief until I followed a friend's advice and tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They helped me right away. I could sleep better, was not so nervous and became stronger. I used the pills for some time and was entirely cured.

"Since then I have always had Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house. My husband had a severe case of inflammatory rheumatism which settled in his hands and feet. A few boxes of the pills cured him and he has never had a return of the disease."

As most of the diseases from which women suffer are directly caused by a lack of blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been found unequalled in the treatment of anaemia, green sickness, delayed development, after effects of child birth and leucorrhoea. Our free booklet "Plain Talks to Women," will be sent to any suffering woman upon request.

If you have failed to get more than temporary relief from your suffering, the treatment is most likely not a blood builder. Do not neglect then to remove the cause of your trouble but give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a good trial.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
